Tatuta Enters San Francisco

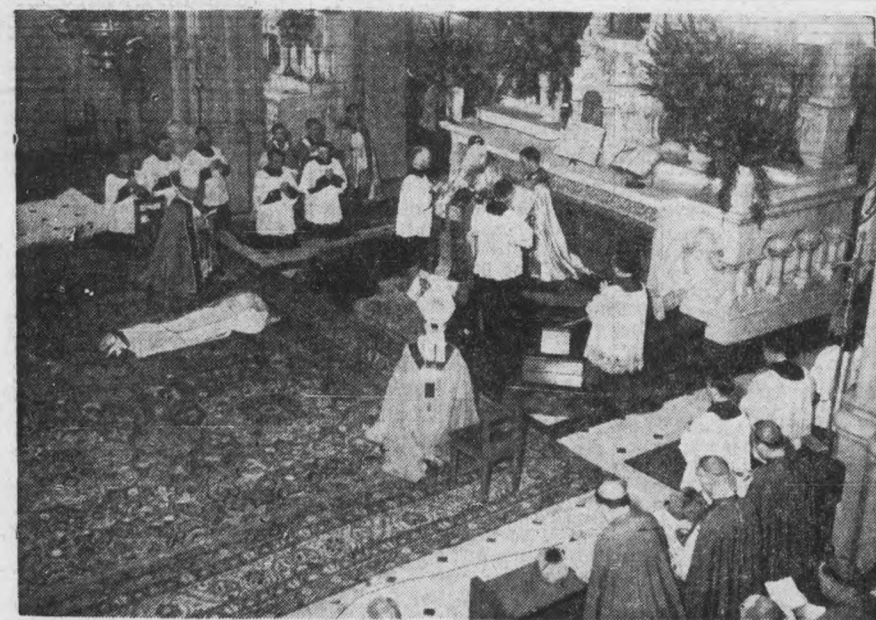

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Japanese liner Tatuta Maru, with about 100 U.S. citizens aboard, was ordered to proceed to this port immediately today, in a radio from the N.Y.K. offices here. Officials of the line said they expected the ship would be in the quarantine station about 3 p.m., P.D.T. It has been off the Golden Gate since last Thursday.

The ship was granted special permission to discharge its passengers without danger of seizure or delay.

The permission came from the commissioner of customs, W. R. Johnson, in Washington, who said the ship also could take on fuel and other supplies if application were made to the Federal Reserve Bank for a permit.

Johnson's message also said an application for permission to discharge the Tatuta Maru's $2,500,000 in silk and to take on other cargo would be "expeditiously considered."

New Alaska Highway Survey?

Roosevelt Wants Coast Defence Bolstered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strengthening of west coast defenses by the United States and Canada was discussed with President Roosevelt today by Mayor LaGuardia of New York, chairman of the joint United States-Canadian Defence Board.

LaGuardia, recently returned from a conference with members of the Canadian commission in Montreal, also disclosed the President wanted a real survey begun as soon as possible to determine the route of the proposed highway from the United States northwest to Alaska to facilitate emergency movement of defence personnel and equipment.

The big question is selecting the route, LaGuardia said, adding that commissions have studied the project for years without any action being taken.

Joins Group Appeal

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Red Cross Society has agreed to a request from the government not to proceed with a separate national drive for funds this autumn and to join with other auxiliary war services in one united appeal next spring, War Services Minister Thorson announced today.

The Red Cross will be able without a fall appeal to finance its operations until next spring, including an increase from 10,000 to 35,000 weekly in the number of boxes of food prepared for British prisoners of war, the minister said.

The Finance Department had been trying to systematize public appeals for funds. Its view was that the field should be left clear in the fall for the appeals of the ordinary peacetime community services and that only one drive for the auxiliary war services should be held in the spring, leaving the rest of the year clear for the government's own public financing.

Final Bulletins Troops at Plant

ARVIDA, Que. (CP)—Steel-helmeted troops patrolled Aluminum Company of Canada plant here today, as work resumed.

Company officials said they were conferring with the National Catholic Syndicate of Aluminum Workers which the unorganized strikers designated to represent them in their demands for wage increases and better working conditions.

Manager A. C. Johnston said "there has been no request to the Dominion government for a conciliation board."

No arrests had been made by noon today.

Muzz in Army

NEW YORK (CP)—Murray (Muzz) Patrick, New York Rangers defenceman and son of Ranger Manager Lester Patrick, said today he had received notice to report on August 14 for induction for training into the United States army.

Minister Resigns

LONDON (CP)—August Zaleski, Foreign Minister of the Polish government in exile, resigned as a result of today's agreement with Soviet Russia, it was learned tonight. Some of the other ministers were expected to follow suit.

Would Fight

LONDON (CP)—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands today declared that should circumstances arise in the East Indies "which would force a fight upon us, there is no doubt whatsoever that we would, with our allies, accept that fight."

Nazis on Defensive

MOSCOW (AP)—The German armies were reported tonight to have turned to the defensive on several sectors of the long Russian front as the result of Soviet counter-attacks and subsequent Nazi retreats.

The Communist newspaper, Pravda, said that the German push was steadily growing weaker and that shifts to defensive tactics were taking place frequently.

To Enter Leningrad?

NEW YORK (CP)—The Associated Press said late today it had been informed by "a trustworthy source" that the attack of German and Finnish troops on Leningrad has made such progress "that the German high command expects the fall of Russia's second city at any time."

Neither the Russian nor the German high command has had much to say about the battle in that sector for several days.

The German high command has announced no definite gains on which such a feeling might be based, but the Associated Press said its advice "indicated an assurance in high (German) quarters such as has preceded major German success in the past."

Claim 28 Planes

BERLIN (AP)—The German radio claimed tonight that 28 British planes which took off from an aircraft carrier in the Atlantic Ocean were shot down in air fights and by anti-aircraft fire over northern Norway. It said two German planes were lost but their crews were saved. (There was no confirmation of this claim from British sources).

Tennis Star May Fly

VANCOUVER (CP)—Harold Wagner, San Francisco tennis star who is defending his men's singles titles at the Western Canada tennis championship here, today took his medical examination for entry into the Royal Canadian Air Force. Recruiting officers were unable to say immediately whether he had passed the examination.

Red Cross Salvage

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three Red Cross salvage trucks, driven by uniformed members of the Canadian Red Cross Corps, formerly the British Columbia Women's Service Corps, will start calling at Vancouver homes Monday to collect salvage material for the Red Cross. The girls will inaugurate the new service Saturday with a parade through the city's downtown section.

Smolensk Battle Climax Comes As Nazis Halted

Canadian and Associated Press

Half way through its sixth week, the German-Russian war apparently pivoted today on a tremendous battle surging to a climax in the Smolensk wedge toward Moscow.

The Russians declared the Red army tide was moving west and that Nazi tank spearheads had been driven back 100 miles from their deepest penetrations, but Hitler's newspaper claimed German tanks knifing 100 miles beyond Smolensk had advanced within 130 miles of Moscow.

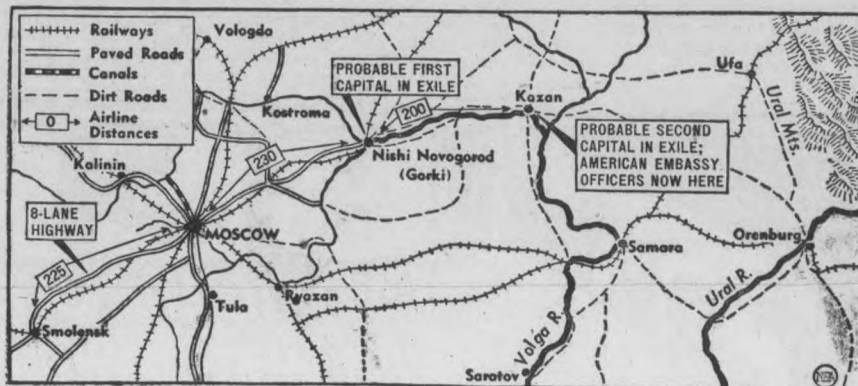

Germans Admit 'Relief Attacks'

A war bulletin from "the Fuehrer's headquarters" conceded Soviet troops were pressing "relief attacks" to rescue "trapped" forces east of Smolensk, but it claimed the Red counter-offensive was being crushed with severe losses.

Elsewhere on the 2,000-mile front, the German communiques said "operations continued according to plan."

Russian dispatches reported "particularly heavy fighting" and heavy German losses in the Smolensk salient, where Red troops were declared to have blasted German infantry from their trenches in a series of counter-attacks.

Soviet officials said the big German drives toward Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev were stalled, with Soviet armies swinging more and more strongly to the offensive.

The Berlin Voelkischer Beobachter, owned by Hitler, said a mighty battle was raging on a 190-mile front, extending from Mogilev, southwest of Smolensk, to Vyazma, 100 miles east of Smolensk and 130 miles from Moscow.

Except for these few details, the Nazi command's communiques again summarized the whole eastern front battle with the statement: "Operations continued according to plan."

Moscow said the Red air fleet was keeping up hard blows on German motorized and mechanized forces, artillery and air bases.

Vice-Foreign Commissar S. A. Lozovsky said 9,000,000 men were locked in battle along the front. Strong Soviet tank forces, with plenty of reserves, had turned back Nazi advance forces at many points, he said.

Lozovsky said the war, mid-way through its sixth week, still was one of mobility, without sign of a frozen front. What trenches have been dug, he said, were intended as spring-boards for counter-attacks, rather than for positional warfare.

Red Star, Soviet army organ, reported Germany's great expenditures of gasoline on the vast Russian front were rapidly exhausting the Reich's supply.

The paper estimated Germany's pre-war oil supply at 6,000,000 to 7,000,000 tons a year and said production was now only about 20 per cent of that. British bombings from the west have made great inroads into the German synthetic oil output, the paper said, and Russian air raids had destroyed much of Germany's only possible additional oil resources in Rumania.

"Every ton destroyed," Red Star declared, "brings the end of the Fascists nearer."

Day-to-day U.S. Basis With Tokyo

Premier Konoye Warns Japanese They Must Be Prepared for Worst

NOW JAP NAVY BASE IN SOUTH PACIFIC—A view of the harbor of Camranh, Indo-China, formerly site of great French naval base, occupied this week by the Japs.

Canadian and Associated Press

Great Britain voiced a sharp warning to leaders of Japan's expansion policy today "to reflect while there is still time," and simultaneously the Japanese press became increasingly hostile over United States and British activities in the Far East.

Tokyo newspapers accused the United States of "meddling" in the Orient and blamed Washington for the action of the Netherlands East Indies in cutting off big supplies of oil to Japan. They called the East Indies a tool of Britain and the United States.

Stock Prices Fall at Tokyo

Tokyo stock prices wavered, mostly off, although munitions were strong.

In London, Foreign Secretary Eden told Parliament only the future could tell if Japan would keep her pledge to respect the territorial integrity of French Indo-China.

In Tokyo, Premier Prince

Fumimaro Konoye was quoted as warning Japan that it must be "prepared to meet the worst" amid rapidly changing world conditions and that the Russo-German conflict was already "bringing serious effects to Japan," though he did not explain how.

In Washington the United States Department indicated no intention today of abandoning its day-to-day basis for relations with Japan, even though the Japanese sought more specific assurances, particularly with regard to ships due in American ports.

For the Japanese, diplomatic sources said, the ship question was becoming a pressing one, because the 45 Japanese ships now hoisted off the Pacific coast ports could not continue at sea indefinitely.

Dispatches from Saigon today told how 30 Japanese transports had begun disembarking troops at Cape St. Jacques, at the mouth of the Saigon River, Saigon's outlet to the China Sea.

Another 14 Japanese navals loaded with 13,000 troops and preceded by a destroyer slipped into Saigon harbor at dawn as the Japanese extended their occupation of southern Indo-China bases.

Several others were delayed arriving because of a shortage of river pilots.

The troops which landed at Cap St. Jacques were expected to be stationed at Saigon, joining the others which are expected to leave their ships tonight or tomorrow.

Japs Make Use Of Air Fields

The Japanese were understood in Hanoi, capital of French Indo-China, to be using newly-acquired air fields and to be landing troops in Cochinchina, the southernmost region of the colony across the mouth of the Gulf of Siam from Malaya.

German and Italian foreign officials who left Chungking after China's break in relations with their countries arrived at Hanoi by traveling overland, but would not discuss how they had reached there.

Arriving Japanese transports had machine gun blisters on their sides forward and aft.

They brought many United States-made automobiles converted into armored army vehicles and their own supply of food for the next few days.

Small River Boats To Carry Troops

Those troops slated to be stationed in Cambodia, the Indo-China region which borders on Thailand, it was understood, will travel up the Mekong River in small boats from the Gulf of Siam.

Saigon, meanwhile, is crowded, and trains for Hanoi in the north are booked to capacity for the next three weeks.

Japanese officers are moving into requisitioned hotel rooms and private homes in Saigon and guests evicted from hotels are being housed in idle French passenger ships in the harbor.

At Sydney, Australia, the Japanese motorship Canberra Maru docked today, 40 hours behind schedule. Two other Japanese vessels off the Australian coast have not yet headed for port.

Hopkins Sees Stalin

MOSCOW (AP)—Harry Hopkins, co-ordinator of the United States lend-lease program, arrived by plane on a surprise visit to the Soviet capital from London today, presumably to discuss with Russian officials the needs of the Red army in its fight with Nazi Germany.

With him came two officers of the United States army, Brig.-Gen. Joseph McNamee and Lieut. John Allison of the air corps.

Presumably their discussions were designed to proceed concurrently with those in Washington between United States officials and Lieut.-Gen. Filip Golikov and Engineer-Gen. Repin of the Soviet army who are there on a special mission.

(A later dispatch said Hopkins had seen Josef Stalin tonight at the Kremlin.)

22 MEN KILLED

LONDON (CP)—Twenty-two men were killed in a terrific explosion in the Crigglestone coal mine near Wakefield, Yorkshire, last night. All but six of the bodies had been brought to the surface today.

One of the injured, M. Broadhead, said he was blown 40 yards by the explosion. A rescuer said coal tubs at the coal face nearly two miles from the bottom of the shaft were thrown about like matchboxes.

U.S. Pilots Paid $8,000 by Britain

LONDON (CP)—J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, Minister of Aircraft Production, defended today the employment of 162 United States ferry pilots at annual salaries of nearly $8,000.

"I cannot get personnel from the air force who are wanted for other matters, and I have to get the best aviators I can and this is the only way I can do it," he said.

He had been asked by a Commons member if the work of U.S. pilots in ferrying planes to Britain was "five times as valuable" as that of British pilots flying "the same machines on active service in the face of the enemy."

There are also Canadian pilots and radiomen working on the ferry service, but they were not mentioned in the House of Commons exchange.

CAPTURED POLES TO FIGHT FOR REDS

LONDON (CP)—A Polish-Soviet Russian agreement was signed at the British foreign office today.

The agreement grants an amnesty, freeing all Polish prisoners in Russia, and wipes out territorial changes in Poland resulting from the German-Russian treaties of 1939 partitioning Poland.

It also provides for the formation of a Polish army in Russia under a Polish commander to be subordinate "in an operational sense to the supreme command of the Soviet Union, on which the Polish army will be represented."

Such an army will be recruited from among some 200,000 Poles held up till now as prisoners of war in Russia.

Aluminum Plant Shut Down 5 Days, Reopens
5,000 Workers Make
Union Pay Demands

By T. R. WALSH
ARVIDA, Que. (CP)—A five-day shutdown of the plant of the Aluminum Company of Canada was over today, but 5,000 workers awaited negotiations about wages and working conditions. As far as could be learned here, no arrests had been made up to this afternoon. Plant Manager E. C. Johnston said this morning he was "conferring" with representatives of the men to "work out a basis for negotiations." He intimated it would be a few days before actual negotiations started. The decision to go back to work was made at a mass meeting Tuesday afternoon when the hitherto unorganized workers agreed to their being represented by the National Catholic Syndicate of Aluminum Workers, to which some of the workers belonged. The N.C.S.A.W. executive is understood to be discussing whether it will apply to the Dominion Department of Labor for a board of conciliation or whether it will negotiate directly with the company. Last night the executive saw A. C. Johnson, manager of the Aluminum Company plant.

Must Have Union
To Ask Arbitration

Before the mass meeting made its decision to be represented by the N.C.S.A.W. it was addressed by Gerard Picard, organizer of the parent National Federation of Catholic Workers, who had been invited to speak by the "committee-of-all" which had previously spoken for the men. Picard said he had spoken to Labor Minister McLarty by telephone Monday night and that the latter had explained that the only legal method by which a board of conciliation could be sought was through a legally constituted body. Work was resumed in the plant by last night's night shift. It was not stated what proportion of the normal staff was engaged, but the company posted notices saying certain classifications would not be required owing to "freezing" of the pots.

Asked Pay Boost,
Changes in Rules

In the absence of an official statement from the strikers, individual workers told newspapermen that on Thursday some 400 potsmen presented demands for better working conditions and a wage increase. A number of workers said no demands had been made previously to the company, but they claimed that it was well known that they were dissatisfied, had been talking about the possibility of a strike for a year, and had been held off in the hope that matters would be remedied. The 400 men, when their demands were allegedly refused, are reported to have prevented the Thursday night shift from taking their posts and to have remained in the plant until Sunday morning.

On Friday the remainder of the 5,000 plant employees stopped work and on Saturday they were joined in a sympathetic strike by 4,000 men working on a plant addition which is being built by the Foundation Company of Canada. The workers held a mass meeting Monday and voted 2,452-51 to continue the strike. The exact nature of the original demands of the potsmen was not made known, but it was emphasized by various workers that the whole matter is one for re-examination following today's recognition of the N.C.S.A.W. as their representative.

Liquor Store
Closed on Request

Last Thursday, at the start of the strike, representatives of the men asked that the Quebec Liquor Commission store and Arvida taverns be closed.

Prior to evacuation of the plant, the strikers attended a special mass celebrated there. Troops from Valcartier arrived Sunday and took over the plant Monday. About 30 men remained in the factory, with consent of company officials and representatives of the men, to take care of essential machinery. The troops were equipped with Bren gun carriers, rifles and bayonets.

So far as could be observed there were no disorders, though a sentry fired his rifle into the air Monday night when he heard someone approaching his position. Wage demands of the workers are topped by the potsmen, now earning 49 to 51 cents an hour and asking $1. Other classes of employees have demands of 10 to 20 cents an hour in increases.

Howe Gives Correct Version

Censors Prohibited
News of Labor Crisis

OTTAWA—For five days wartime censorship has been used to throw a cloak around labor troubles which closed the $150,000,000 plant at Arvida, Que., of the Aluminum Company of Canada Ltd.

The government had its censors issue orders to all newspapers of Canada and the radio that not a word was to be mentioned. Its spokesmen in reply to protests denied that the people of Canada had any right to know about the seriousness of the labor crisis as it was developing. They said the government would release the news when the right time came.

The right time came late Tuesday night when the Hon. C. D. Howe called newspapermen to his office to give the "right" version of what had happened.

ARRESTS PLANNED
Mr. Howe said 300 men had suddenly last Thursday seized control of the "biggest war industry we have in the country" and held control until they voluntarily left at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. Howe said the Mounties are being used on the case and that "arrests definitely will be made, if none have been made already." Col. A. Theriault, head of the Quebec arsenal, is also investigating.

"Action will be taken against the men who stayed in the plant or such of them as the investigation shows to be responsible for the trouble," Mr. Howe said. Most of the 5,000 workers at Arvida had been taken as much by surprise as the company and seemed "dazed" by the sudden "organized attempt" to take control of the plant, Mr. Howe said. When ordered by the ring leaders to leave the plant they did so.

KEY POT-ROOM TIED UP
By midnight the 300 employees, who made their first move by quitting their posts in the pot-room, the most vital section of the workings, had control of the entire plant and remained inside, locking the gates, in "something like a sit-down strike." It was not until Sunday that they left.

Before long about 5,000 other laborers building additions to the plant to fill vast United States orders had quit work too. "The Arvida disturbance was the most serious interruption of war production in Canada since the war began," Mr. Howe said. "The loss will amount to thousands of tons of aluminum. Fortunately reserves in Canada and Great Britain, it is expected, will be sufficient to avoid interruption in airplane production here or overseas."

ARMY MOVED IN
Two companies of active army men were moved to Arvida as a "precautionary measure" on Sunday, but considerable delay had been experienced in making the necessary arrangements with municipal and provincial authorities. Mr. Howe said that to avoid a recurrence of such delays in future, an order-in-council had been passed giving the munitions minister, through the minister of national defence, authority to call out the active army "to prevent or suppress riots, disturbances of the peace or other actions likely to impede or obstruct the production or delivery of munitions of war or supplies or the construction of defence projects."

'DOLLAR AN HOUR'
Mr. Howe denied that "this (the Arvida outbreak) was a labor dispute," as "the officers of the labor union knew nothing about it. There had been no demands for higher wages or any changes in the working conditions. Work was resumed without any concessions being granted."

He said some of the men inside the plant shouted "a dollar an hour" when asked what they wanted, but there was no organized representation to the company.

START OF TROUBLE
Mr. Howe said the trouble at Arvida began Thursday afternoon "out of a blue sky." Some of the men in the pot-room quit their posts and men from other departments soon came in and "some kind of melee started." He did not know if there was any real violence, but anyway the trouble spread throughout the plant.

The pot-room is the section of the plant where aluminum finally is turned out by electrolysis—"the final purification process." Lines of huge pots have to be continuously agitated. Office workers and engineers tried to keep some of the pots operating after the melee had started, but finally had to give up and shut off the power to protect the pots from worse damage. The fluid in the pots soon congealed and now will have to be chipped out, a tedious process not expected to be completed until three weeks from last Thursday.

PRIVATE DETECTIVES
OUT, TOO
Mr. Howe said the gigantic plant had its private protective service, but these men, all company employees, drifted out with the rest. There were also a few troops in the vicinity.

"But the plant was organized for war—not for an internal disturbance," Howe said. The men who took control of the plant were not evicted, but came out of their own accord. It was decided that without an overwhelming number of troops, force would cause more damage than delay, so the men were left inside as long as they wanted to stay.

"It was a very serious situation," he said. "There was many million dollars' worth of equipment which the men inside could have seriously damaged. So far as I know there was no sabotage of any kind attempted except in so far as the loss of production caused by the shutdown was concerned."

After the plant was vacated, a vote was taken under auspices of VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council has decided to send a protest to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Supply and Minister, over the action of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation "in its gross interference with the right of its employees to form a union."

"The Dominion government has made it a criminal offence to interfere with the attempts of employees to form a union, but ignores the Criminal Code with regard to its own employees," Percy Bengough, council secretary, said in presenting to a meeting here a letter from the Association of Technical Employees of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

The letter stated the corporation had invited all employees to appoint staff councils at various Canadian cities, and quoted the corporation as stating that "we will not tolerate any individual interfering with the smooth conduct of this co-operative scheme, and no trouble-maker will be allowed to jeopardize honest efforts to maintain the best of relations within the organization."

MEAT PACKERS
STRIKE IN ONTARIO

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Union officials said today that about 350 employees of the Dumart Ltd. packing plant went on strike at 6 this morning after a mass meeting last night had rejected a company settlement offer by a vote of 281-19.

Fred Dowling of Toronto, organizer for the United Packinghouse Workers of America, said the offer from the company was turned down for three reasons: Lack of union recognition, dissatisfaction with wages offered skilled men and refusal of the company to grant cost-of-living bonuses on the basis suggested by the government.

Dowling said, "I realize that this situation was not brought about by the local management. If they had their way we could have reached an agreement. It was due solely to the company's office (Burns Packing) in Calgary."

Ray Furlong, manager of the local Dumart Co., was not available for comment.

the National Catholic Syndicate to see whether the employees wanted to return to work in the aluminum plant, on the basis that men who did not vote would be regarded as willing to work.

"The result was favorable to resuming work," Mr. Howe said. All those called back returned to work yesterday afternoon but all workers could not be handled at once because the plant had been "frozen."

NATIONALITY DOUBTED
Mr. Howe declined to answer a question as to the nationality of the 300 men who seized the plant, but said one or two were "of doubtful nationality" and are being investigated particularly.

There has been rumors that two of the men involved had "not been in the country very long."

VANCOUVER (CP) — Lawrence Killam, president of the British Columbia Pulp and Paper Company Ltd., today announced plans to install a new digester each at the company's plants at Port Alice and Woodfibre, at a cost of more than $500,000. There are now 1,000 men at the two plants.

He said the two digesters were to be installed to increase production of the plants to meet demands for pulp from the United States markets following the cutting off of their sources of supply in Scandinavian countries by the war.

War Forcing Trade Shifts

OTTAWA (CP)—Coffee, cocoa, drugs and spices—Canada imports them all and war may well force some changes in the places from which she gets them, officials said today.

Necessity of conserving shipping space and foreign exchange, possible economy in buying close to home, the effect of former sources of supply being cut off and the development of new trade relationships and representation are all factors in changing the picture.

"Canadians could grow fat on the products of their own soil, but our diet for generations has depended on a vast variety of products from other lands," one official said.

"Take coffee, for instance. It comes from South American countries, from British India, Ceylon, Sumatra and the Celebes. In 1940 we imported 42,000,000 pounds, a reduction of about 5,000,000 pounds from 1939, and probably this reduction was due to the war. The 1940 cost was $3,660,000, down almost $1,000,000 from the previous year.

QUININE SUPPLY

Chinchona, which provides quinine and other drug supplies, is drawn from Java, India, Peru, Ceylon, Colombia and Jamaica. Canada's imports for drugs and medicines run to about $3,500,000 annually.

PAN AMERICAN TRADE GROWS

One indication of the changing trend in trade is the development of business between Canada and Latin America. Both North and South America have been affected by the loss of European markets and shipping difficulties. Trade Minister Mac-

Kinnon will leave on an extensive South American tour next month and will discuss trade extensions. Tropical regions of South America provide products which the Dominion requires and Canadian-manufactured goods and some natural products are required in the south.

Axis Move Seen On Dardanelles

By DANIEL DE LUCE

ANKARA (AP) — Diplomatic dispatches from Bulgaria reported yesterday that German naval personnel had arrived at the Black Sea ports of Varna and Burgas.

The possibility was seen that they were preparing for operations against the Russian fleet. At the same time, rumors were circulating in Turkey that the Axis planned to seize the Dardanelles and Bosphorus Straits in order to send the Italian fleet into the Black Sea.

Official Turkish circles said they regarded reports of an Axis menace to the Dardanelles and Bosphorus Straits as premature.

Observers, however, said they considered that a lightning attack might be made in September, depending on Germany's success or disappointments in the Russian campaign.

If Kiev were to fall to the Germans, those observers said, the Nazi intention would be to knife across southern Russia to Crimea.

British military experts, however, asserted an Axis attack on Turkey would bring the Royal Air Force into action immediately, with heavy bombing attacks certain to be made on Axis ships trying to use the straits.

Saving Steel for WarCanada to Reduce New Cars by 56%

OTTAWA (CP)—Production of passenger automobiles for sale in Canada during 1942 will be cut to less than half the 1940 figure and several other steps have been taken to adjust the automotive industry to meet the wartime needs of the Dominion, Munitions Minister Howe announced.

In a joint statement, J. H. Berry, motor vehicle controller, said an order to be issued shortly will limit the output to about 44 per cent of the 1940 figure and that further curtailment may be ordered if present conditions change.

Since production of Canadian manufacturers last year was 110,126 passenger cars, 1942 production under the impending order will be around 44,000. Part of this reduction, however, was brought about this year under a production curtailment order issued last May.

FEWER MODELS

The statement said that, in co-operation with Berry, automobile manufacturers have agreed to reduce the number of models of passenger cars offered to the public from 147 this year to 79 in 1942.

The number of color and upholstery options offered buyers will also be substantially reduced and arrangements also are being concluded which will "flatten out the usual and excessive spring manufacturing peak throughout the industry."

Steps have been taken by the controller with co-operation of the industry looking forward toward greater simplification of accessories on new cars.

ESSENTIALS CONTINUE

"Essential accessories such as heaters, defrosters, oil filters and windshield wipers will continue to be available on 1942 cars," the official announcement said.

Production of commercial vehicles in 1942 is not affected immediately.

Howe said the curtailment in the number of passenger automobiles manufactured will make available to war industries many thousands of tons of steel, alloy metals and iron required for vital war needs.

The other steps taken will also divert supplies of materials to war industries and also release more men and more machine tools to Canada's wartime industrial front.

Berry now is engaged in a study of the production of and demand for heavy and light delivery trucks, and it was intimated some action might be taken in that regard if the survey makes it seem advisable.

At Vancouver6,000 at 'V' Rally Ask Canadians Go Overseas

VANCOUVER (CP)—Backed by the approval of 6,000 Vancouver citizens, a resolution was ready for Ottawa today calling on the Dominion government to institute mobilization of the country's wealth, industry and manpower, and to make Canadian troops available for service "wherever such service will promote victory over the aggressor."

Passage of the resolution climaxed a V for Victory rally sponsored by a committee of veterans and city businessmen under chairmanship of Major Oscar L. Erickson, M.C.

Gathered in the twilight of forest-fringed Brockton Point oval in Stanley Park, the crowd applauded speakers whose central theme was service to God and country. They stood and with a silent show of hands unanimously approved the resolution calling for an increased war effort.

Major Erickson said in an introduction:

"At this hour and at this time of peril all thoughtful and sincere Canadians who are free of bias and prejudice should dedicate themselves, and firmly resolve to go all out for victory—and not be content with half measures.

"The government, because of pledges made more than a year ago, at a time when the position of Britain was very strong and secure—with France as an ally—are waiting for the people to give the lead and release them from pledges made."

A thundering "No" answered the question of Brig.-Gen. J. A. Clark, C.M.G., D.S.O.: "Are we doing everything we can to defeat Hitler?"

There was more applause for Brig.-Gen. Clark when he told the meeting the federal government requires no plebiscite or election to throw all of Canada's resources into the fight for existence.

TIME HAS GONE

Mrs. F. J. Rolston, president of the Women's Canadian Club, said: "The time has gone when we can get away without action."

Sir Francis Heathcote, Anglican Bishop of New Westminster, said: "Half of Canada knows nothing of the war."

Rev. Father J. Miles, rector of Holy Rosary Cathedral, said that loyalty finds its true expression in the determined fighting service to one's God and country.

Gen. Clark, former Conservative M.P. for Vancouver-Burrard, asserted the National Resources Mobilization Act gave the government power to "do anything and everything with Canadian lives except send them to fight where the enemy is attacking and destroying civilization."

IN TORONTO

TORONTO (CP) — Lieut.-Col. C. E. Reynolds, president of the Canadian Corps Association, addressing a public meeting, said Prime Minister King sent a telegram to Neville Chamberlain six days before Canada entered the war suggesting that the then British Prime Minister announce no expeditionary force was expected of Canada.

The meeting, called by the corps association at Maple Leaf Gardens and attended by about 2,000, passed two resolutions, one declaring "that immediate steps be taken to decree and enforce total war" and the other demanding "that the King-Lapointe government be removed from office."

Major W. D. Herridge, former Canadian Minister to Washington, declared he was told by a "high official" in England "that the Canadian government, in consequence of entering into the Commonwealth Air Training Plan had asked the British government for a statement in Parliament that no further contribution was expected of Canada."

Herridge described Mr. King as "a pacifist by nature, an isolationist by training and incompetence by the will of God; he is the author of disunity in Canada."

Minstrel Man Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Leonard, 70, famous minstrel man, who was reported missing from his home, was found dead in the Hotel Imperial.

First reports said the old-time blackface comic died of natural causes.

Police were asked to search for him when he failed to return from a dental appointment Monday.

Hanson Warns Of Socialism

NELSON (CP) — Hon. R. B. Hanson, leader of the Conservative party in the House of Commons, left here today for Cranbrook and Lake Louise after restating before a party gathering last night conscription must come in Canada and the nation needed leadership to push its war effort.

In his address last night Hanson said he saw signs the voluntary system of recruiting was failing. He found much sentiment in the west for conscription. He, and the Conservative party, had opposed the 30-day training plan shortly after the fall of France, Mr. Hanson said, and had urged a four months scheme be instituted.

He had urged Premier King to form a strong national government with the leading men of the country in it.

The great need of the nation today was for leadership, Mr. Hanson said, leadership which he contended was not being provided by Mr. King today.

Mr. Hanson again urged that the people guard against a permanent system of regimentation such as he said it was obtaining now and warned them against State Socialism. The present system, he said, was the best. It had brought both Great Britain and the United States to their greatness.

There was no place in Canada for carping and destructive criticism, he said.

It was the duty of every Canadian to put the winning of the war before everything else.

"Canadians all," he said, "let us cease to think in terms of eastern Canada, western Canada and central Canada at this time, when one thing, and one thing only, is gripping the heart of every Canadian, the winning of the war."

Win H.B.C. Governor's Award

At a mass meeting of the staff of the Hudson's Bay Company, held last Friday, A. J. Watson, store manager, presented the governor's award to the two outstanding salespeople for the 12 months ending May 31. A. Wylie was presented with the Governor's Shield, to be retained for one year; also a small replica as a permanent trophy. Miss P. Merryfield received second honors. The two winners are entitled to an all-expense-paid trip to Winnipeg where they will be entertained, together with winners from other branches of the service. On presenting the awards Mr. Watson stressed the point that the success of any retail business depended largely upon the ability of the sales staff to give complete satisfaction to the customer. The recipients of the awards had demonstrated all-round efficiency.

Russians Fight Back

EVEN THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND today conceded that the Soviet army in the Smolensk region had taken the initiative in the shape of a vigorous counter-offensive; but, of course, the Berlin announcement assures the regimented people of the Reich that it will be a "futile and costly" effort. Nevertheless, these "relief attacks"—as one Nazi spokesman describes the new development—in themselves, as well as on the German admission, bear witness to the fact that, contrary to the parrot-like claim, something has happened to change the progress of the campaign begun more than five and a half weeks ago. Hitler's operations are not continuing "according to plan." That plan originally provided for the capture of Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev before this, likewise the destruction of most of Stalin's effective army and air force.

In view of the German admission, moreover, it is interesting to note what Max Werner—author of "The Military Strength of the Powers" and "Battle for the World"—has to say about Russia's mechanized equipment and air force. In the current issue of the New Republic (New York) he contends that the Red Army's tank superiority is two to one, a view "now shared by so cautious an expert and observer as Major George Fielding Eliot in the New York Herald-Tribune." At the time Mr. Werner wrote the article in question, however, the Russo-German war was only a month old; he did not know how deep the break-through in the Smolensk area would penetrate; but he was able to say that "the plan of the battle of annihilation by encirclement, executed in Poland and in the west in 12 days, in the Balkans in a single week, was never carried out during the first four weeks on the eastern front." Unquestionably, he further argued, Germany would be likely to continue with offensive strategy at all costs; "but once the Red Army has evened the score in the matter of experience—the Germans had had plenty of experience—it is likely to become capable of launching a counter-offensive." And the test of Russia's military qualities, naturally, must come only as its armies and air force prove or disprove their capacity for fighting back.

While it is obvious the Red Air Force has lost its advance bases, shortening the range of Soviet bombardment aviation by some 300 miles, Mr. Werner interjects the statement into the article from which we have quoted that the greater part of the Soviet aerial strength is qualitatively equal to that of the German. In this connection, too, "the outstanding quality" of Russian fliers must also be taken into account—"their courage, thorough training and technical skill." The well-known military expert likewise asserts that "the bulk of Russia's bombardment aviation has not been put into action so far." That was 10 days ago. If this statement still holds good, however, and the number of Nazi planes destroyed in the last week supports the contention, greater use of the Red air arm should go far to help the "relief attacks" which the Germans today admit have been launched with considerable vigor in the vital Smolensk region. Nothing in this, of course, is intended to suggest that the German drive is permanently stalled. But there is abundant proof that the business launched on June 22 is not going "according to plan." Hitler must do much more before the snow flies if he is to win the Battle of Russia.

Hopkins in Moscow

WHEN HE SPOKE TO THE BRITISH people through the microphone in London last Sunday, Mr. Harry Hopkins, coordinator of the United States Lend-Lease program and Mr. Roosevelt's trusted friend and adviser, promised that "we in America are determined to give all possible aid to China and Russia—and immediately." But no hint did he drop that he contemplated an early trip to Moscow to consult with the government of the Soviet Union on the spot. His arrival in the Russian capital this morning by plane, however, naturally has surprised and pleased all those who realize the extent of the influence which Stalin's conduct of his country's contribution to the Allied cause must inevitably have on the outcome of the conflict. How long the American envoy will remain in Russia, whether he will visit London again before he returns to the United States, is not indicated in the dispatch reporting his latest movements. It can nevertheless be taken for granted that he intends no time shall be lost in implementing Sunday's promise.

The presence in London and Washington of Russian military and economic missions takes on added significance in the light of Mr. Hopkins' visit to Moscow. It means that Mr. Roosevelt's co-ordinator of aid to all those countries fighting the totalitarian gang will be able to save much valuable time by direct contact with the chief and officials of the latest nation to accept the Hitlerian challenge. As a realist himself, with first-hand knowledge of the nature of the assistance the United States can extend to Russia—how much and when—Mr. Hopkins will go back to Washington with a complete understanding of Russia's actual and potential strength in the field and in the air, as well as with an intimate concept of the role the Soviet political philosophy is likely to play in the face of military reverses. In other words, he will be in possession of a knowledge of conditions that may require as much co-ordination as the Lend-Lease program—which is his prime concern at the moment.

Bolivia Acted First

BOLIVIA'S PROMPT ACTION TO PUT an end to Nazi machinations within her borders did not surprise newspapermen, diplomats and businessmen in that country who for more than two years have felt that Hitler's agents one day would overplay their hand. That powerful German influences have been at work—with, in certain aspects of their intrigue, considerable success—will not be gainsaid. The Bolivian army was German trained; officers from the Reich who assisted the general staff and directed it in the Chaco war remained afterward. Nor will it be denied that many young Bolivian officers have sentimental and professional attachment not only to things German but also to things Nazi. In spite of all these facts, however, the Bolivian government had the courage to give the German minister his marching orders, and to arrest powerful and influential people, action in itself which argues that conditions had been allowed to drift long enough. But Bolivia moved first—and Hitler and his gang are annoyed.

The South American situation would appear to sum up to this: In no country is there a people, or even a very large minority, either sympathetic toward or desirous of applying the Nazi form of government to the conduct of their own affairs. But in almost every country there is a small and powerful minority of army men and reactionaries who do admire the Nazi regime, and who would be so inflated by final Nazi success in the war that they would be almost certain to grasp for power immediately. In certain countries they might well succeed. Bolivia was one of them; consequently Bolivia has shown both wisdom and courage in squelching the conspiracy before some signal from Europe gave it the go-ahead. It therefore boils down: If Nazism is defeated and discredited in Europe—as it will be—it will gain no foothold in the Americas. But if it were to be successful, no country would ever be safe from the kind of outbreak which Bolivia has just scotched.

The Two Ways

PRIORITIES NEEDED FOR THE BUILDING of a $45,000,000 steel plant for Brazil are about to be provided by the United States. This would seem to underline the vast difference between American and Nazi policy. It means, if it means anything, beyond the promise of steel production in a neighboring country, that some of United States exports of steel may have to be curtailed. The German plan, of course, is to de-industrialize conquered countries, making them hewers of wood and drawers of water for a European industry completely centralized in the Reich. On the other hand, the United States is taking the long view, a view which suggests that she has the most to gain by making neighbor lands independent of Europe as well as of herself. Based on the practical policy that all American countries should go forward together, the ultimate result of such a procedure as that about to be established in respect of this Brazilian venture will be that all will be better off than if one country were to prosper at the expense of the rest. On that line, contrasting strongly with the Nazi "new order," the neighboring republic evidently is placing American chips.

Notes

Is it too much to hope that censorship of the radio would include the jokes?

A parson has been granted a divorce after one year. His marriage was just a clerical error.

It comes to us in these summer outing days that China, which invented everything from gunpowder to civilization, was also first to put pants on women.

A Calgary Herald columnist begins with the statement that "the annual wheat crop of western Canada is over a billion bushels, the population between lakehead and coast is 40,000,000 and Calgary is one of the world's greatest cities, with a population climbing to the million mark." To forestall suspicion that he got wet on Duggan's Dew of Kirkintilloch he explains in the next paragraph that it's a prediction from a 1911 real estate prospectus discovered in the Herald's library. If the booster could dream that about Calgary, the Ottawa Citizen would like to see what he wrote about the old boom town of Edmonton, which was laid out bigger'n Chicago when its bubble went "Plop!"

APPARENTLY, WE WON'T DO IT VOLUNTARILY

From Financial Post

There is little evidence that the government's appeal to motorists to save gasoline is being seriously heeded. From almost every part of the country come the same story—no noticeable reduction in highway pleasure traffic. At the present rate of voluntary restriction, it will be years instead of weeks before the objective of a 50 per cent cut in gasoline consumption can be achieved.

Such methods cannot win a war against the kind of ruthless enemy we are forced to face. Provided Ottawa is serious in its contention that we must halve our current demand for gasoline, then prompt and more rigorous action is imperative.

Bruce Hutchison

FACTS

FRANCIS WILLIAMS, former financial editor of the London Daily Herald, has lately written a book worth noting. In "Democracy's Battle" he shows that before the war started 80 per cent of the wealth of England belonged to 6 per cent of the population. Nearly half the national income went to 10 per cent of the people. Thirty-three million Britons were undernourished; a quarter of the British children inadequately fed. "For every baby that died of pneumonia and bronchitis in a middle-class home, 572 died from the same cause in poor homes." Britain, before the war, says Mr. Williams, was a democracy ruled "by an oligarchy of hereditary aristocrats, landowners, bankers, financiers and industrialists."

These facts are mentioned here for several reasons. First, because they show the greatness of a people who could arise above such conditions to fight their present battle. And second, because Britain had moved to solve its economic problems much more rapidly than Canada and despite much greater handicaps.

REFORM

BRITAIN, compared to the countries of this continent, is extremely poor in resources. Its income per capita is less. It lies on a little island which could not even survive economically or physically, with its present population, were it not for its foreign trade and for those vast accumulated foreign investments that are being liquidated so largely in this war. Yet Britain is far ahead of Canada in many social reforms. Its people are not as well off as ours, its wealth is apparently more inequitably distributed, its extremes in riches and poverty worse, and certainly it maintains a larger upper crust of parasites in normal times than we do; but still, it is a more Liberal country. You might say, a more radical country.

But this would not be difficult, for we should never forget that Canada, of all the important nations of the world is, without exception, the most conservative and reactionary. This is due, in the fabric of our national politics, largely to the people of Quebec, who are conservative by training and by religion, and the fact that they vote Liberal is merely an accident, which dates from the execution of Louis Riel, by the Conservative government of Sir John Macdonald, who was burned in effigy in Dominion Square, Montreal, that night.

Canada is conservative in its industrial fabric because it is largely controlled by a few great corporations. It is conservative because it is a frontier country which, up to now, has got along fine without any fancy stuff, without even health or unemployment insurance. Meanwhile, the conservative Americans have left us far behind in the movement towards reform.

NO RETURN

THE FACTS about Britain before the war indicate that, while Britain bred a race of heroes, it has never been a land fit for heroes to live in, as the picture books would make us believe. It indicates that Britain cannot go back to its old state and won't, if its people can prevent such a tragedy. Yet here we enter a glib region, where much nonsense is talked these days. On all sides we hear that the world will be changed by the war, that conditions will never be the same again, that our society will be rebuilt.

So general is this assumption that there is growing up a second assumption, namely, that these great beneficial changes and the advent of a good life for everyone will occur magically merely because we beat Hitler. When, of course, we were in the worst of the depression before Hitler was heard of, and when the war started the most obvious fact on earth was that we had solved no single economic problem, and were still baffled by the phenomenon of the depression. We have had the appearance of a solution, but it has only been an armament boom, financed by vast distension of debt.

It is pretty clear, therefore, that the war will not solve our economic problem. All it can do is establish the political basis for a solution. But after that basis is established, the whole job has to be done from scratch. We shall still have as raw material a world where most people go to bed at night hungry, where 33,000,000 Britons out of 40,000,000 are undernourished, where babies die wholesale for lack of proper medical attention. Thus we cannot expect the solution to be easy or quick or accomplished by any painless remedy. It is likely to be long and complicated, a matter of much experiment and error.

Perhaps this would not be worth mentioning were it not for the fact that we are falling, with the first sign of boom and prosperity, into the error of believing that we can stop all our economic and political thinking as a people now; that the miracle of the war is going to bring a brave new world without any help from us.

In a crowded street car, a very thin lady was greatly discomfited by the pressure of an extremely fat lady, who sat next to her. Turning to her other neighbor, the thin lady remarked: "They really should charge by weight."

To which the fat lady replied, "But, if they did, dearie, they couldn't afford to stop for some people."

HESS STORY

A WEEK or two ago Commander Stephen King-Hall poured a volley of hot shot into the British Ministry of Information. It was, he said, with a wealth of adjectives, a woeful flop. As an example he cited the Hess case. Hess had become a forgotten man. This was bad enough even so far as British people were concerned, but it was downright tragic for our cause in Germany. Hess, said the publicist, was a potential bombshell in the brain of every German.

Whether or not this criticism was responsible, the BBC has now started to exploit the Hess episode in German language broadcasts. Their story is particularly informative. It fills in several blank spaces in the mysterious history of this year. Hitler could not possibly win a two-front war, according to Hess' figuring. His trip was undertaken as a desperate attempt to get peace with Britain before the Nazi plunge into Russia. So runs the BBC account.

We can assume that this report by the BBC, issued so long after the actual event, will be the substantial basis of the official British explanation which will be handed down to posterity. Coupled with a close reading of Hitler's official apology for turning on the Soviet it tells a lot.

SERBS' HELP

It seems that as early as last winter Hitler had made up his mind that he would have to fight Russia. He could not risk an invasion of Britain with the Red armies all set to hit him in the back at the opportune moment. Moreover, Stalin had matched every move made by Hitler with a countermove of his own. Molotov had plainly intimated to Hitler that if Germany occupied Rumania the Soviet would likely occupy Bulgaria "without overthrowing the monarchy." According to Hitler's own official story, he stalled on this hint. The Nazi

RECRUITING

From Comox Argus
The lack of co-ordination in recruiting is almost laughable. We now have in this district a recruiting officer on full time, a man qualified to sign on and give information to all classes of recruits. Yet today in this district a senior officer is seeking recruits for this district with his aides, an air force recruiting party, and an army recruiting party. Last week a truck loaded with equipment and men, arrived two days behind schedule in the town, passed through the town with their loud speaker going and were on their way out again within an hour. One permanent man, assisted by voluntary help, would do the job just as well, probably better.

INTER-AMERICAN

The Inter-American Historical Series of the University of North Carolina Press, comes at a very opportune time. It should do much to dispel that pleasant myth which finds all too wide credence that the governments of Ibero-America are the playthings of Nazi or Communist propaganda. Latest in the series is Luis Galandames' "History of Chile." Luis Galandames is dean of the Faculty of Social Science of the University of Chile. Isaac Joslin Cox, his translator, has traveled widely in South America.

This is the first detailed account in English of Chilean constitutional history. It is likely to be quite indispensable to all students in Pan-American affairs and should have a place in all public libraries, universities and government offices. It is on sale at James Hope and Sons, Sparks Street, Ottawa.

Jubilee W.A. Make Gift of Coagulator To Hospital

A donation of $640 to the Royal Jubilee Hospital for the purchase of an electric coagulator was voted by the Senior Women's Auxiliary at a special meeting held at the Nurses' Home yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was called for the specific purpose of considering this purchase, and Dr. T. W. Walker, medical superintendent, was present by special invitation to explain the different uses and various merits of the equipment before a vote was taken on the grant. Dr. Walker also thanked the auxiliary for the purchase, some time ago, of food wagons. These, he stated, were proving very helpful in the serving of meals to the patients.

Mrs. Thos. Miller, the president, who was in the chair, thanked the members for the activity they had shown in making hospital shirts at their own homes during the summer holidays.

Mrs. P. Taylor reported that during July $15 had been collected in dues, and $39 during June. Final arrangements were made for the auxiliary's booth at the fall fair at the Willows.

The members decided to hold the annual bridge party on the afternoon and evening of October 8, Mrs. H. A. Patterson being appointed general convener, and Mrs. Okell convener of the tea arrangements.

NANAIMO (CP)—Donald C. Gibbard of Steveston, now studying at the University of Washington, has been appointed music instructor for Nanaimo city schools. Gibbard was selected from seven applications to succeed Beverly C. Fyfe, appointed to the staff of Vancouver city schools.

The Misses Ida and Sally Reikki and Betty Williamson were joint hostesses at a personal shower given on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reikki, Hastings Street, in honor of Miss Margaret Burrow whose marriage to Lance-Bombardier George McIntosh, R.C.A., will take place next week. The rooms were decorated with summer flowers. A white banner with the letters R.C.A. was draped over the fireplace, before which the guest of honor received the gifts which were presented in a dunnage bag. Miss Betty Williamson presented her also with a corsage bouquet of rosebuds and gypsophila. Contests were enjoyed, the winners being Betty Austin and Myra Hodgson. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mary Knowles and Nora Plaxton. The guests included Mrs. Burrow, Mrs. Reikki and the Misses Margaret and Evelyn Burrow, Olive Perrie, Mary Lambert, Sophie Dickson, Molly Raper, Betty and Dorothy Austin, Myra and Grace Hodgson, Goldie and Victoria Rodman, Mona Watling, Mary Knowles, Nora Plaxton, Jessie Goddard and Gladys Healey.

The guest of honor was presented with an electric iron and toaster and a corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses. The guests included: Mesdames W. Ritchie, W. Gornall, R. Ard, K. Gosse, C. Eastwood, C. Red Cross Country Fair at Qualicum Nets $1600

Many visitors from Victoria, both in the role of patrons and as assistants at the various booths, contributed to the outstanding success of the gala country fair held at Qualicum Beach on Saturday last, under the joint auspices of the Parksville, Qualicum and district unit of the Red Cross. As a result of the affair its coffers were swelled by the handsome sum of $1,600.

DECORATIONS

Held on the playing fields of the Qualicum Beach Boys' School, the affair was formally opened with a rousing speech by the O.C. of the Nanaimo Military Camp, Brigadier O. M. Martin, V.D. A huge "V" in red on a white ground was a conspicuous motif in the decoration of the marquees and booths, scattered about the grounds.

Throughout the afternoon the band of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, Dufferin and Welland Brass Band dispensed a splendid program of music. Another popular diversion was provided by the visiting Y.M.C.A. acrobatic teams, Doug Marsland, Pacific Northwest Y.M.C.A. all-round gymnastic champion of 1940 and 1941, with his troupe of tumblers, gave a very fine display; while the comedy act of Jim Taylor and Archie McKinnon evoked much laughter and applause.

KLONDIKE NIGHTS

Miss Ann Critchley, Miss Elizabeth Martin and Miss Pamela Thwaites of Victoria were among those assisting in the Klondike Nights, which did a roaring business. Atmosphere was imparted by the nickelodian, loaned by the proprietor of the Cassidy Hotel, and which was a souvenir of the Klondike gold rush, and many of the airs which thrilled the hearts of the devotees of the dance halls in the Gay 'Nineties were heard again. Miss Honor Benson of Victoria was a popular favorite with her topical songs.

Mrs. J. Muskett, wearing an 1870 gown with appropriate jewelry, and assisted by a bevy of young girls in hooped skirts and poke bonnets of the period, had charge of the Old Thatched Cottage, with its valuable collection of antique silver, china, books and objects d'art, generously donated by Mrs. Fordham Johnson and others.

Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Leeman of Victoria were among the seers in the Temple of Fortune, another popular feature.

In the evening the grounds were illuminated with festoons of colored lights and a large crowd danced in the open air to the strains of a military band.

Cheese Provides Ample Proteins, Offers Variety

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Cheese is always good protein news these days when meat is high. But variety must be part of the cheese story.

Best cheeses for cooking are Parmesan, Canadian or American and Swiss. Cheese in its cooked form is entirely digestible and can be eaten freely even by those people who ordinarily are sent dashing for the bicarbonate after indulging in a slice of cheese in its rawer form.

Fluffy Tomato Rarebit

(Serves 8)

One can tomato soup, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 pound sharp cheese, 1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 2 eggs, separated.

Pour tomato soup into top part of double-boiler. Add grated sharp cheese. Heat and cook until cheese is thoroughly melted, stirring and beating constantly. Then stir in the beaten egg yolks to which dry mustard and Worcestershire sauce have been added. Fold the beaten egg whites into the hot mixture. Serve on toast.

Cheese Souffle

(Serves 6)

Eight square soda crackers, 1½ cups milk, 3 egg yolks, beaten, ¼ pound grated Canadian cheese, dash of tabasco sauce, 3 egg whites, beaten stiff but not dry.

Put crackers and milk in pan three inches deep and let stand three to four hours. Mash crackers thoroughly. Mix egg yolks, cheese and tabasco well with crackers and let stand until ready to heat and serve. Fold in egg whites and bake for about 30 minutes in oven that has been preheated to 300 degrees Fahrenheit. Turn up temperature and brown for two minutes.

Eight slices of white bread, 2 cups grated Parmesan-type cheese, 4 eggs, 1.3 cup butter, slightly creamed, 3 cups milk, 1.3 teaspoons salt, 1.3 teaspoon dry mustard.

Pour mixture over cheese and bread. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees Fahrenheit) about 40 minutes or until mixture does not adhere to knife.

Dear Madam—

You know, as well as we do, that Sports Clothes must be not only immaculate but that they must have also that certain look of "hanging right." And in this particular we pride ourselves on our ability to retain the correct fit of well-made garments. In many cases, grateful customers have told us that a trip to the "New Method" has actually improved on the original appearance of an outfit. The New Method number is G 8166.

Duke of Kent Cheered,
May Visit United States

OTTAWA (CP)—A scene reminiscent of the Royal tour in 1939 was witnessed this morning when His Majesty's brother, Prince George, Duke of Kent, drove through the streets to Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters to start his six-week tour of air establishments in Canada.

The Duke, accompanied by his aide, Group Captain Sir Louis Greig, drove in an open car with a single Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable on a motor cycle as escort from Government House, where he is guest of his uncle, the Earl of Athlone, and his cousin, Princess Alice, to the Jackson Building.

(In Ottawa the Duke is meeting two of his wife's closest friends, Princess Juliana of the Netherlands and Lady May Able-Smith, the Athlone's daughter, both of whom were bridesmaids when the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina were married in Westminster Abbey, November 29, 1934.)

Crowds of people who had started gathering an hour before were packed about the entrance to the Air Force building, and at points along the route followed by the Duke, particularly about the war memorial in Connaught Place.

CHEERS

Cheers were heard at intervals as the Duke, smiling, bronzed by the sun and apparently rested from his tiring trans-Atlantic flight, saluted those lining the street.

Both the Duke and his aide wore the uniforms of their rank in the Royal Air Force. The Duke is an air commodore attached to the staff of the Inspector-General of the R.A.F.

His Royal Highness was greeted at the headquarters entrance by Air Vice-Marshal L. S. Bredner, chief of staff, R.C.A.F., who presented the deputy minister for air, S. L. de Caestecker.

This evening the Duke will be guest at a Dominion government dinner, presided over by Prime Minister King.

His Royal Highness talked with 50 correspondents in Rideau Hall garden. He said his brother, the Duke of Windsor, will visit Canada shortly.

MAY VISIT U.S.

"I am not sure," he said, when asked if he would visit the United States. He intimated such a visit might be possible on his way back from Victoria, the farthest west point he will visit.

Asked about the aircraft resources of Britain, he replied: "We can never get too many planes or too many pilots—everyone at home is delighted and surprised at the way you have been able to train fliers throughout the winter in Canada—the British Commonwealth training plan has worked amazingly well. It is a great advantage to be able to do the training in a country not in danger of bombings, and with so much sunny weather."

The Duke was asked about the health of King George and Queen Elizabeth.

"I saw them just before I left and they were very well and very busy," he said. "They have the happiest recollections of their visit here and asked me to remember them to so many people."

The Duke recalled his last visit to Canada. "It was in 1928 when I crossed to Vancouver to board the cruiser Durban," he said.

"Durban?" queried a newspaperman, taking notes. "How do you spell it? D-U-R-B-A-N?"

The Duke's eyes twinkled.

"Oh, no," he said. "You're thinking of Deanna."

PRAISES WOMEN

He praised women's part in the war: "Women throughout the Empire are making a splendid effort and theirs is a real contribution," he said. "Recording of this work by the newspapers is very important, very important indeed."

Children in Great Britain were in good health.

"My own (Prince Edward George and Princess Alexandra) prattle away all the time about Hitler, bombs and the blitz without knowing really what they are talking about," he said.

1,000,000-yen company for developing phosphorite resources in Loakai, Indo-China, in a move to give Japan self-sufficiency in phosphite and lime fertilizers. Domei said the new company would control 31 principal phosphorite mines in Indo-China.

B.C. APPLE CROP
BELOW 1940 LEVEL

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics says preliminary estimates indicate reduction in 1941 apple, pear and grape crops compared with the 1940 yield.

The report says "slight to substantial" increases are indicated for stone fruits.

The probable 1941 apple crop is estimated at 3,884,200 barrels compared with 4,292,300 in the previous crop year. Production gains are indicated for Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, but the crop in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia is reported below last year.

Reduction in the pear crop is expected in Nova Scotia and Ontario, but an 11 per cent increase may be shown in British Columbia. The entire Canadian crop is estimated at 555,600 bushels, 4 per cent less than last year and the smallest since 1937.

Plum and prune crops in the main producing provinces of Ontario and British Columbia are reported larger than last year, but Nova Scotia is expected to be 22 per cent below its 1940 figure. Canadian production is estimated at 248,900 bushels, a 16 per cent increase.

R.C.A.F. Men Face Trial

HULL, Que. (CP)—Germain Doucet of Montreal and Edmond Paquette of Ottawa were committed to stand trial for the murder of Charles G. Walton of Ottawa. The men are before Judge Roland Millar today.

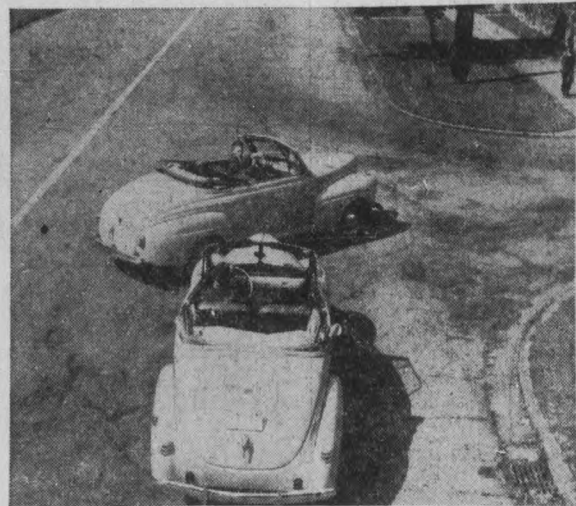

The trial will take place at the fall assizes. Both men are members of the R.C.A.F. with the rank of leading aircraftman.

The Rights and Wrongs of Turning

The series of pictures below showing two ways to turn—the safe way and the sure way to invite an accident—were made through the co-operation of Chief John A. McLellan and Inspector Walter Calwell of the City Police Department and the National Motor Co. Ltd., owners of the Ford cars used.

First stage in the wrong way of turning right is demonstrated. Going down the centre of the road the driver starts to cut across the street without giving a hand signal.

Turning into the side street in this manner traps the car coming up from the rear.

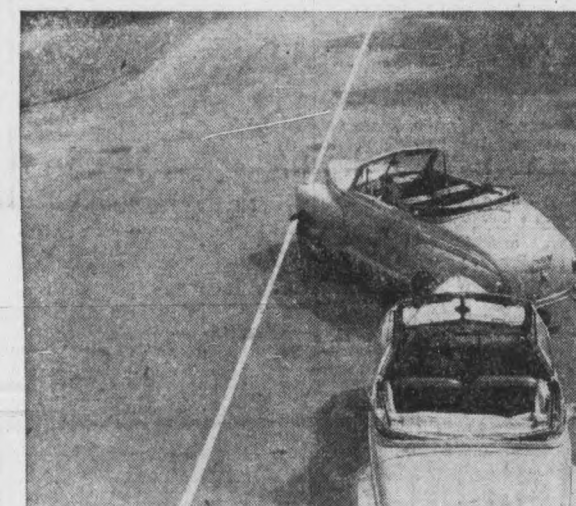

First stage in the right way of turning right is to drive along the right-hand lane. Hand signal is given at least 50 yards from corner.

The driver behind is warned by the hand signal which allows him to pass to, the left or slow down and continue straight.

First stage in the wrong way of turning left is shown. The car which is going to turn is going down the wrong side of the road.

Suddenly the front car turns across the road trapping the car coming up from behind. No hand signal was given either.

First stage in the right way of turning left is to enter the left lane a good distance before the corner to give the hand signal in time.

The turn is made carefully and without any hesitation which would force the driver behind to jam on his brakes.

'Japan Must Act
Swiftly'—Konoye

TOKYO (AP)—Japan needs "swift, determined execution of her national policies," Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye declared today.

Japan, he told the opening of the 16th plenary session of the general mobilization inquiry commission, "is determined to proceed on a historic renovation in policies from an entirely new standpoint."

(According to a version of the speech broadcast by Domei, Japanese news agency, the Premier said it was difficult to predict where the European strife may spread and Japan must be set for any situation that may arise in the Far East, adding that "the government is doing everything within its power to mobilize all resources and manpower" for any eventuality.)

OIL SUPPLIES

Japanese newspapers, discussing the possibility of a total oil embargo by the United States, asserted what London economic officials already have estimated, that Japan has stocked enough oil for several years.

The newspaper Nichi Nichi said, however, that an oil embargo might have an influence on heavy industry.

After being halted for 24 hours, the Standard Oil Company was permitted to resume domestic deliveries of gasoline and oil. It had been unable to operate because of restrictions on paying currency to foreign firms.

BRIEF CONTROL

Reports from Dairen said authorities took brief control of properties of the Standard, Texas and Shell Oil Companies and detained their employees after United States assets were frozen. Within a short time, however, difficulties were solved and the authorities withdrew.

The Japanese news agency said arrangements are nearing completion in Tokyo to establish a

B.C. Girl, Brother,
Master Mariners

PORT COQUITLAM, B.C. (CP)—A 24-year-old Port Coquitlam girl, Eve Forrest, and her 23-year-old brother, Harvie, now are holders of master mariner certificates permitting them to operate boats on British Columbia's inland and coastal water.

The two were left a tugboat business when their father, Capt. Samuel Forrest, died here six years ago. They intended to dispose of the business but the volume of orders induced them to carry on, while studying at a federal government navigation school for their master mariner certificates.

Capt. Eve Forrest is the only woman on the British Columbia mainland to hold such a certificate.

Want Breach Healed

HELSINKI (AP)—The Finnish public today displayed few signs of ill-feeling towards Britain following the rupture of relations over the Russian-German war, and the Sittumon Sosial-demokraatti, chief organ of the Social Democratic Party, expressed the hope the breach would not be of long standing.

Visiting Prisoners

CAPT. SIR TIMOTHY EDEN, brother of British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, has arrived in Canada to examine internment operations, to give advice "if it is wanted and pick up any tips I can."

His wife, who came to Canada last year with her family, was headmistress of a girls' school near Vernon for some months. Later she moved the school east. Capt. Eden is visiting Canadian internment camps with Lieut.-Col. J. Wedell, London, director of the British prisoners of war branch. He was met in Ottawa, where he is now staying, by Lady Eden and their 17-year-old daughter Ann.

LAKE COWICHAN

The Lake Cowichan ratepayers' school meeting was recently held at the high school. G. Johnson was chairman and W. F. Grosskleg secretary. Mr. Grosskleg was re-elected trustee, and Mrs. F. Reed auditor. The financial report was read by Col. J. Boyd, and it was decided to pay off $1,000 of a mortgage. The proposed dental clinic was discussed, action being deferred until the next annual meeting. A letter was read from the fire marshal, giving instructions for the installation of fire escapes.

$300,000 to Friend

The will of EDWARD B. McLEAN, former newspaper publisher who died in Washington, left $300,000 to Rose Davies, sister of Marion Davies, but cut his wife off with only dower rights.

The will left $5,000 to each of three children. It was dated June 19, 1931, before McLean was adjudged insane by a Maryland court. The document provided that if any of the heirs attempted to break the will that person would get nothing.

In assigning the $300,000 to the sister of the former screen actress, McLean said that Rose Davies "has given me her association and affection."

McLean formerly was publisher of the Washington Post.

POLA NEGRI RETURNS—Pola Negri, famed star of silent movies, looks over rail of Ss. Excalibur as she arrived in New York after seven years in Germany and France. Her five-year residence permit having lapsed, she was detained at Ellis Island, before being granted permission to live in the United States again.

TEARFULLY PATRIOTIC, REGRETFULLY YOURS—Tearfully, three-year-old Frederick Lee Olson, Seattle, protested when his father, Capt. Al Olson, of Northwest Airlines, suggested the boy donate his toy aluminum plane to Uncle Sam. When the captain explained the reason for the contribution, Frederick yielded to the cause of national defence.

GOING DOWN—All that is left of a bombed London building is this twisted framework of an elevator shaft. Demolition workers are dismantling it.

Rescued From Mine
At Zeballos

ZEBALLOS (CP)—Earle V. Todd, 35, was buried alive for nearly six hours in a mine cave-in at Mount Zeballos mine yesterday before he was rescued by fellow workmen and taken to the Zeballos Red Cross hospital, where today he was reported in serious condition.

Todd was working in a stope when earth and rock gave way, plunging him an undetermined distance down a steep incline. Debris completely buried him, but heavy timbers wedged above him protected him from being crushed or smothered to death. The timbers also created air pockets which provided him with air while rescuers dug him out.

AFTER READING reports on the exhibition golf match in Vancouver between Freddy Wood and Stan Leonard and Jules Huot and Stan Horne we think the mainland links devotees got a little more for their money than the local fans who watched the four Canadian professionals trudge around Oak Bay on Saturday.

We quote Stu Keate of the Vancouver Province:

"It's good news today that Stan Horne has enlisted the support of Quilchena Club members to get Freddy Wood down to the Canadian professional golf championship next month. Freddy has never competed in the east as a pro, and the folks down there are anxious to see him.

I asked Horne what he thought of Wood's play, after competing with him in 54 holes of competitive golf.

"He's the finest iron player in Canada," Stan said. "His consistency with that steel is amazing. Freddy can play in any company, anywhere."

"A lot of the 1,500 fans who trooped over Quilchena's fairways will contend that Horne is being overly-modest in describing Wood as the best iron player in Canada, for he uncorked some long ones that were models of distance and accuracy.

"Highlight of the day for many was 'the battle of the Stans' which developed in the afternoon. Horne's putter, which had been definitely sour in the morning, suddenly began to warm up and he started hitting his tee shots up with the powerful Leonard.

He went out in 33. "Our Stan robbed Montreal's Stan twice. On the 560-yard sixth hole Leonard spanked a 3-iron shot on to the centre of the carpet, while Leonard was over in the tall rough bordering the trees. He played a beautiful cut shot out of the gorse, then proceeded to can his putt for a birdie. It was gorse-awful. On the 10th he holed a 12-foot 'pressure putt' which, if missed, would have reduced the Coast lead to one hole. To my mind, it was the turning point of the match.

"The important thing about the match is not so much that Fred and Stan won, but that the east and west finally got together. The biggest winner, as President Hans Bordewick of Quilchena pointed out at the wind-up banquet, was the Red Cross.

"Horne and Huot proved a couple of great little ambassadors for the east. Their comical trick-shot exhibition at noon and fine sportsmanship throughout the match earned them a host of friends."

Here's what Hal Straight had to say in the Vancouver Sun:

"In all respect to Freddy Wood, Stan Horne and Jules Huot—all good golfers—might we say that if these three and Stan Leonard represent the Big Four of Canadian golfers (and it seems they do) it is our opinion Leonard will end up the best tournament player and the one most likely to get somewhere in the big show. He is a tremendous hitter which leaves him with short irons to the green, but, more important, he goes for the works every time. Big-time golf nowadays amounts to 'going for the works' and waiting for the days when you click. Leonard's performance proved many times over that he has the nerve to 'take a chance.' True he can be wild and spray the course but just as true, he has enough gumption to recover... and we mean RECOVER. This writer really got a tingle or three out of his play. You ask, 'What about Wood?' Maybe he's a mite too careful to pick off the big prizes."

Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankees' record-wrecker, says Dick Newsome has showed him the most stuff this season. The Boston Red Sox' 31-year-old recruit right-hander throws a curve, sinker, screwball and knuckleball.

Boxing Upset

Cochrane Whips Zivic

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The new world welterweight champion is a fellow who once quit the ring because he couldn't win a fight.

Freddie (Red) Cochrane has been beaten 25 times in his career. But he worshipped Mickey Walker as a kid from the same neighborhood in nearby Elizabeth, N.J.

He and Fritz Zivic, who punched a period on Henry Armstrong's career, battled for 15 of the roughest rounds a bar-room brawl ever saw at Ruppert Stadium last night. And, while it was close, Red deserved Referee Joe Mangold's decision for (1) making the fight as the aggressor all the way, (2) taking Fritz's Sunday shots and charging back for more and (3) poking Fritz an occasional belt in the stomach which did Zivic absolutely no good and which showed up the Pittsburgh joker's staleness from overtraining.

WILL FIGHT AGAIN

They'll probably fight again in September, provided Red, who has a 1-A draft classification, hasn't been called up. But until that time, the rugged little 26-year-old is the head man.

At the finish the Associated Press score card showed each fighter with seven rounds and one scored even.

There were low blows, head

butts, hitting on the break, back-handing and whatever else you can think of. But it was give and take in this respect, with no holds barred and the score about even. Cochrane was penalized with loss of one round, the fourth, for a punch south of the legal border. He wound up with a gash at the corner of his left eye, from a long right Fritzie tossed at him in the 12th, and he was tired as a soldier after an all-day forced march at the finish.

PIGEON RACING

The Victoria and District Racing Pigeon Club held its second race of the young bird series, from Chilliwack, a distance of 85 miles airline, 15 members sending 148 birds.

J. Cambrey won the pool. The weather over the week-end was ideal for pigeon racing and good returns were experienced. The next race will be from Hope this week-end.

Cards-Dodgers Tie

It's a fight to the finish St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers are waging this week, but they both came out of their first meeting with nothing except unfinished business.

With practically the whole country, except possibly St. Louis, agog over their crucial midseason clash for control of the National League pennant race, the two foes fought 12 innings to a 7 to 7 draw yesterday. This left the Cards still two games in front.

Less than 11,000 customers were in Sportsman's Park for the 3½-hour show, but they got their money's worth.

Dodgers rolled away to a 6 to 1 lead with Jim Wadell hitting a two-run homer in the first inning and Dolph Camilli following with his 17th and 18th circuit clouts of the season on successive turns at bat in the fourth and sixth. In this interim big Johnny Mize, the famed St. Louis slugger, left seven runners stranded.

Then in the sixth the Cards took it all back with a six-run inning. Kirby Higbe gave three walks and forced in a run before manager Leo Durocher could get anybody warmed up. As soon as Curt Davis reached the mound at Terry Moore singled for two runs. Johnny Hopp tripled for another run and scored himself on a wild throw by Durocher, and Mize sent the Redbirds ahead with a homer.

TIE IN NINTH

In the ninth Joe Medwick, a former Cardinal, made his only hit of the game to single home the tying run for Brooklyn. After three more innings darkness finally forced them to quit.

Pittsburgh Pirates scored four runs in the second inning and coasted to a 5 to 3 victory over Boston Braves before rain halted play in the eighth.

Cincinnati Reds let Giants rip off four runs against their fading star, Elmer Riddle, in the first three innings and then fired back with two in the fourth and five in the fifth to win while Gene Thompson held New York scoreless the rest of the way.

In the other senior circuit skirmish Chicago Cubs, on a spree that has netted them 10 of their last 12 games, crushed Phillies 12 to 4.

New York Yankees gave away a 6 to 3 decision to Detroit Tigers in a wave of benevolence that let Cleveland Indians advance to 10½ games from the lead. It was Yanks' second straight loss.

Cleveland conquered Washington Senators 5 to 1 and St. Louis Browns beat Boston Red Sox 3 to 2.

Chicago White Sox interrupted the Philadelphia Athletics' parade with a 1 to 0 triumph.

Cobb Wins Series

DETROIT (AP)—Ty Cobb defeated Babe Ruth 3 and 2 in the third and rubber game of their golf match series here yesterday. The former baseball greats sweated and toiled over 16 holes in near 90-degree temperature before calling a halt.

Cobb was 16 over par for the 16 holes and Ruth was 18 strokes over. Par for 18 holes is 72. Cobb, former Detroit Tiger star, won the first match in Boston, 3 and 2, while the one-time New York Yankee slugger squared it in New York, 1 up on the 19th hole.

Southern Stars Win Coast Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The south is one-up on the north in the matter of Coast League all-star encounters.

The southern team whipped the favored northern outfit 3 to 1 last night in the circuit's first annual showing of the factional contest.

Harry "Peanuts" Lowrey, Los Angeles left fielder, scored two of the southerners' runs on singles pounded out by Hollywood's catcher, Cliff Dapper. Dapper raced home with the other south tally on a single by Harry Rosenberg of Hollywood.

A total of 11,031 persons turned out for the benefit played by stars of the eight teams of the Class AA circuit. The south aggregation, managed by Frank (Lefty) O'Doul of San Francisco, was made up of San Diego, Los Angeles, Hollywood and San Francisco players. Pepper Martin's northerners included representatives from his own Sacramento club, Seattle, Portland and Oakland.

The north's score came in the eighth inning when Bob Blattner of Sacramento walked and was brought home by Gene Handley, also of Sacramento.

THREAT NIPPED

A strong north threat in the ninth—with the bases loaded on three successive walks by Hollywood pitcher Hiram Bithorn—ended when Blattner was put out on a pop fly.

It was a pitchers' battle for five scoreless innings before Dapper and Lowrey found the range against Oakland hurler Henry Pippin. The southerners collected six hits altogether from the north mound staff of Hal Turpin, Seattle; Pippin; Ad Liska, Portland; and Al Hollingsworth, Sacramento. Pippin was charged with the defeat.

Four southern hurlers—Yank Terry and Wally Hebert of San Diego, Larry Jansen of San Francisco, and Bithorn—gave up but three hits. Jansen received credit for the victory.

K.V.'S HOLD PICNIC

First annual picnic of the K.V.'s Basketball Club was held recently at Elk Lake. Fine sports program was enjoyed and included softball games, egg and spoon race, tug-of-war, thread and needle, centipede, wheelbarrow and boot and shoe races.

A wiener roast and swim in the lake brought a pleasant outing to a fitting close.

round of 16 was Bitsy Grant, who took care of Harris Everett, 6-3, 6-2.

FAVOURS OUTSTANDING

Big, good-natured Babe Favours, first baseman and playing manager of the Ghosts, kept the fans laughing with a continual line of chatter. Favours was wise-cracking with the local players and fans most of the time. However, the big boy also played a neat game at the initial bag and proved himself an outstanding performer. He good-naturedly boasted of his prowess and then showed the spectators just how good he was. Favours is recognized as one of the hardest hitters in softball.

On another occasion with runners on first and second the Ghosts reversed procedure by running between the two bags.

Porky Andrews got a big hand from the crowd when he smashed a long hit for a home run with one aboard in the fifth inning.

Flash Gross, who pitched for the Ghosts, displayed a dynamic fast ball and plenty of control as he struck out 13.

In the ninth inning Mickey Mouse, catcher for the Ghosts, took over the public address system and broadcast a play-by-play description to the crowd. He had a fine line of chatter and grand mike style, evidence of experience in that line. He got a big reception.

Fans left the park describing the exhibition as the finest they had ever witnessed. "One remarked: 'Softball is a great game when you see it played right.'"

Entire nine innings was sprinkled with comedy. In one inning, for instance, Ray Byers, Victoria pitcher, walked to the plate and the Ghosts held a conference following which they all shouted "Let him hit, he lets us hit." Offered a slow pitch Byers lined out a single. After getting to first he was personally escorted around to third base by one of the touring players, who announced the two bases were

N. Coates Fires Home Clincher

When more nerve-shattering games are staged between two lacrosse teams, the Alerts and Jokers will do the serving. Last night, before a hysterical mob of 800 frenzied enthusiasts, the Alert Service lads just slammed shut the overtime door to win from Gus Munroe's Jokers, 12 to 11, in by far the fastest, most torrid exhibition of Canada's national sport ever offered here.

Hero of this epic was blond Norman Coates, who, in the first period of the overtime, picked up a loose ball on the outskirts of a shabby scuffle in the Jokers' front yard and let go with one of his lethal underarm specialties to beat Bill Andrews. That goal broke an 11 to 11 deadlock and for the next seven minutes proved to be of more comfort to the red-shirts than all the mattresses in the world.

The goalkeeping—it was brilliant. Bill Andrews' and Joe Bryant's performances in their respective citadels broke the hearts of almost every player on the floor. The Joker goalie kicked 54 Alert attempts to the winds, and it was his performance alone that took the Joker team into overtime. The service boys were getting far more dangerous shots on goal than their opponents, but Andrews was nullifying them so quickly and so often it would have been monotonous had his stops not been so sensational.

Bryant wasn't taking rumble-seat honors, however. In the last five minutes of regular play and in the whole of the overtime his performance stopped Joker attempts as cold as the proverbial mackerel. He blocked 43 drives.

To star at the beginning the boys opened fire half an hour behind schedule owing to faulty lights. Alerts went two up in the opening five minutes on goals by Jim Perry and Norm Coates. At the 10-minute mark Sam Andrews and Johnny Minns had evened matters. Then Jimmy Packford, showing more vim and vitality last night than he had all season, boomed home two of his typical cannonballs to again put the Alerts out in front by two and as the curtain dropped Keith Ludbrooke shaved the margin to a singleton.

The beginning of the next period saw Karl Ovcharick take some neat passes and pull off even neater fakes to register two in a row, Calverly retaliating with one, Andy Ovcharick evening that and Johnny Minns finishing the parade just before the halftime respite. Score then was 7 to 5.

The third quarter saw a different trend. Porky Andrews had given the black-sweated warriors a good locker room spell at halftime, with effects. His boys swarmed back like a nest of peeved hornets and outscored the Alerts four goals to one. Lovelyst shot of this period and the game was a backhand by Minns as he was pitching into the boards after a hard check. Bryant never knew it was coming.

Two quickies by Williams and Bobby Burr again put the Alerts in the lead shortly after the start of the finale. Caydizen then squared affairs, Norm Coates again put the Alerts in the lead and, then, with a minute left, "Dusty" Mair, a veteran tried and true, broke through centre to put one past Bryant's feet. In the last five moments of that period the crowd went crazy. The walls of the Sports Centre never trembled before such hysterics as were heard.

The overtime was just as exciting. The Alerts had the majority of the play and after Coates' goal kept pressing but didn't take any unnecessary chances. Coates garnered three goals to top the Alert list and Minns harvested the same quantity for the Jokers. Karl Ovcharick deserved much of the credit for the Alert win. He set up plays all night for his own team and intercepted more passes from opposing players than any other man on the floor.

In the junior semifinal playoff, the Owl Drug team, backed by topnotch goal-tending on the part of Buzz Long, defeated Douglas Tire in a rough and tumble affair that saw little good lacrosse. The score was 12 to 7. Brynjolfson and Cochran refereed.

Rolling Ball in Longacres Win

SEATTLE (AP)—The wild wailing and skirling of a Scottish pipe band opened a colorful British war relief show at Longacres race track yesterday, second benefit card of the meeting, and a speedy California-bred horse, Rolling Ball, raced home to victory in the Royal Air Force handicap for a $1,005 purse.

Rolling Ball, a Needmore Stable entry, with jockey Doug Dodson up, raced the mile in 1:37 1-5 seconds to pay $4.90 on a $2 bet. The Rosebriar Farm's Count Valiant was a length and a quarter back and Rosebriar's second entry, Olimpo, was third.

With only one other horse, the Canadian Canning and Brown entry, Nanafra, in the race, no place or show betting was paid off.

Steel, Minus Keel Plates, Delivered

Fabrication of steel already delivered is being proceeded with at the local shipyards presaging commencement of active work in the construction of the fleet of 9,300-ton steel freighters here under Canada's wartime program.

The local ship contractors, Yarrows Ltd. and the Victoria Machinery Depot, have each received delivery of a carload of steel this week.

This steel, however, is not for the keel plates, delivery of which is necessary before the first keels of the vessels can be laid on the newly-built ways here.

While the plants recently built in the Outer Harbor and at Esquimalt are not quite ready for building operations, the stage has been reached, with an adequate supply of steel on hand, whereby keels can be reached almost immediately.

Date for keel-laying by the Victoria Machinery Depot has been tentatively set for August 1.

But, as a spokesman of the company said this morning, "it all depends on steel delivery. We have had some delivered, but it is not the material required for an immediate start. We want the keel plates before we can start laying them on the blocks."

In the face of recent criticism over delay in commencing the shipbuilding program in Victoria and failure to take full advantage of daylight saving, shipyard executives claim that criticism is unjustified as plant organization, a tremendous job in establishing new plants, is now well in hand. Given the materials, they say, there will be no cause for complaint. Within a very short time, it is asserted, Victoria's steel shipbuilding program will be forging ahead at full speed.

Wm. Stapleton to Succeed McNicholl

Retirement of George McNicholl, general passenger agent, Canadian National Railways, Vancouver; necessitates a number of changes in the passenger department personnel. W. Johnston, general passenger traffic manager, Montreal.

Tourists Advised Of Gas Sale Hours

Small cards advising tourists of the new wartime gasoline regulations have been printed for the Government Travel Bureau and will be given to all U.S. tourists entering the province through the co-operation of customs officials, Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Trade and Industry, said today.

On their way to Skagway, Alaska, on a 14-day trip from Oakland, Calif., which they won in a contest of getting subscriptions for the Oakland Tribune, were these three boys in Victoria yesterday. Left to right, Ira Ligon, 16 years; John Lamm, 17 years, and Bob Church, 16 years. They were the second three highest in the fourth annual circulation contest of the paper. The first three highest won a trip around the United States. John was the highest in this group. He added 135 orders for the paper. Ira added 121 and Bob 110. The boys left home Sunday and traveled to Seattle by train. Before leaving on the Princess Louise for the trip north, they went on a sightseeing tour of the city and had dinner at the Empress Hotel. The boys are being escorted on the trip by Marvin B. Hench, suburban circulation official of the Oakland Tribune.

Says Russia Must Get Food

Russia's armies as a whole cannot last beyond next spring unless Russia is supplied with huge quantities of food through Persia or Vladivostok, William R. Mathews, editor and publisher of the Arizona Daily Star, Tucson, said today.

"Germany already has taken most of Russia's breadbasket, striking just at the start of the harvest season," Mr. Mathews said, "and even before the outbreak of this struggle the Russians were on near-starvation rations."

Mr. Mathews is in Victoria in the course of a tour which will take him through Canada and back through New York and Washington to his home in Tucson. Meanwhile, his wife and children are vacationing at Shawinigan Beach Hotel. They will spend several weeks at Shawinigan before driving back to Tucson.

Mr. Mathews has made two trips through Russia, the last in 1939 just before the outbreak of war.

One reason the Germans have been held back in their drive in western Russia is the weather, and another is the almost complete lack of roads, Mr. Mathews said.

"The country is bleak and flat, dotted with forests and with practically no roads," he explained. "What roads there are become deep gumbos in wet weather, making tough going for panzer divisions."

"The Russians have the benefit of a four-lane boulevard from Moscow to Smolensk, built especially for this purpose, and are able to move their reserves up to the front."

RUSSIANS DETERMINED FIGHTERS

If Russia can extricate her armies from the present battle zone, they can retire as far as the Volga River and continue fighting for some time, Mr. Mathews declared.

"The biggest obstacle Germany faces is the Stalin political organization," he said. "Stalin has a ruthless will and there will be no humanitarian armistice such as it might be said Petain made in France."

"Even though most of the Russian army were destroyed, Stalin would retire to Siberia and keep up some form of warfare there. And even if Germany occupied all of European Russia, the Germans would face an impossible task in organizing this area for production."

"The Germans, of course, would get a certain amount of initial loot, but not continued production, because the Russians would lie down."

"No one else can take a beating like a Russian, nor can surpass him in skill as a saboteur," Mr. Mathews said he had never seen a slovenly Russian soldier. Next to the Germans, he said, they were the best uniformed in Europe.

In addition, he declared, the Russian soldier was brave and was second to none in ability to take punishment.

"A Russian soldier will stand and fight as long as he has a gun," Mr. Mathews said. "planned, so that tourists will know the gasoline sale hours when they arrive in the province and will then be able to avoid running out of gas during the off hours. Reasons for the restrictions are explained on the cards and co-operation of tourists is requested."

STUDENTS HEAR STRING ENSEMBLE

A Vancouver string quartette, assisted by Beth Emery at the piano, gave Victoria Summer last musical entertainments of the current season in Victoria High School today.

The ensemble, including Daphne Carapata, first violin; Claudia Fiore, second violin; Smyth Humphreys, viola, and Tadeusz Kadzielawa, cello, were heard in Joseph Haydn's "Quartette," Opus 74, No. 3, and, with Miss Emery, in Robert Schumann's "Quintette for Piano and Strings," Opus 44.

The second half of the program included Alfred Pochon's "Spirit of the 18th Century" and "Deep River," as well as the Raff-Pochon selection "The Mill."

This evening a physical education display, demonstrating the work carried on during the course, will be given in the gym, starting at 7.30. H. Lee and Miss M. J. Hungerford will direct the display.

Tomorrow at 11 the music and dancing classes will present a "Talent Parade," starting at 11. That function will wind up the general entertainment program in the High School.

A dance in the Empress Hotel on Friday evening will mark the close of the courses.

Wide Publicity Given Victoria

Victoria's English charm and its new Thunderbird Park are being publicized in articles now appearing in more than 1,000 U.S. newspapers, Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Trade and Industry, said today.

The illustrated articles were circulated by the Government Travel Bureau in conjunction with the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. Thunderbird Park is described as the most unique museum in the world, devoted to the perpetuation of North American Indian art. A similar type of article on Vancouver has been circulated.

Mr. Asselstine also announced that the color travelogue film, "Beautiful British Columbia," arranged by his department has now been released in South America for showing in Brazil, Cuba, Argentina, Uruguay, Peru, Chile, Panama, Venezuela and Porto Rico.

WITH R.C.A.F.—Selwyn E. Coffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coffey, 3219 Wascana Street, is now in training in eastern Canada with the Royal Canadian Air Force. He was born in Alberta and had lived in Victoria for four years before enlisting. He is training as an observer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hincks of Holmwood, Langford, has left for Vancouver en route to Penhold, Alta., to study in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Oswald studied in Victoria and Vancouver technical schools before leaving. He spent last weekend at home.

His two brothers also are in the air force, Kenneth in Ottawa and Claude at Calgary.

Troops Lose Mascot

Teddy, a four-month-old black bear cub, is enjoying the freedom of the Howe Sound woods again while members of the motor transport section of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps are bemoaning the loss of their mascot.

Teddy was presented to the motor transport group by a friend a week ago and all went well until they left him for safekeeping with the fourth ammunition company here.

Two members of the ammunition company took Teddy for a walk and someone reported the incident to British Columbia police.

Game regulations forbid the keeping of a game animal in captivity, so Teddy was loaded on a police launch and taken up Howe Sound where he was released.

Betts, Author, Poet
Dies at Santa Cruz

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP)—Craven Langstroth Betts, 88, well-known author and poet, died at his home here last night.

He was born in St. John, N.B., April 23, 1853. He was educated in New Brunswick, but in 1879 he moved to New York, where he entered business life and pursued literary studies.

Among the poet's best-known works were "Songs from Beranger," a translation from the French; "The Perfume Holder," and "Tales of a Garrison Town." His most recent work, "A Canadian Anthology," is believed to be in the hands of a publisher now.

Betts was a member of The Authors, a New York club, the Poetry Society of New York, and the Canadian Poetry Society. He came to Santa Cruz 10 years ago.

U.S. TECHNICIANS
REACH ULSTER

LONDON (CP)—A corps of 460 trained United States construction men arrived today at a port in Northern Ireland and were greeted aboard ship by Captain H. D. R. Margesson, British War Secretary.

E. A. V. Macpherson of New York, second in command of the group, told Capt. Margesson he understood their work was to be in connection with certain harbor facilities and the War Secretary answered that "we are mighty glad to see you fellows here."

The American technicians, an addition to United States workers already in Northern Ireland, are headed by E. R. Holland of Williamsburg, Va.

One of them said their trans-Atlantic crossing was uneventful. The Americans will form a self-contained colony with their own police and medical services. They brought their own food and clothing to relieve the strain on British resources.

"All that is missing is our wives and families which we were not allowed to bring over," one remarked.

One of the conditions of their service was that none of the men should be of Axis or pro-Axis national descent.

They were guaranteed three months' work and will work double shifts through the summer, earning $60 to $120 a week.

TRAINS IN R.C.A.F.—Reginald J. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Bennett, 410 John Street, is training in the Royal Canadian Air Force. He was born in England and went to school in Regina, taking a mechanics course at the Regina Technical School. At the time of his enlistment he was working at the Hotel Vancouver.

Canadian Airmen
Need Cigarettes

OTTAWA (CP)—Air Minister Power told a press conference yesterday Canadian airmen overseas were badly off for cigarettes and that he was going to try to do something about it.

Unlike other units which are looked after by voluntary organizations in their Canadian home districts, he said, the airmen are scattered and their units are not representative of one district in Canada.

Cigarettes are almost impossible to obtain in some localities and the kind Canadians like are hard to find everywhere in England.

Major Power, who has just returned from a visit to Britain, said efforts would be made through the voluntary auxiliary services to have the airmen supplied from Canada and for that purpose he would seek to obtain a complete nominal roll of all Canadian air personnel serving overseas showing their location, no matter where it might be.

Razor blades were also difficult to obtain, the minister said.

Victoria Officer
Busy in England

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—The 2nd Canadian Division Army Service Corps, a $2,000,000 going concern, is operating now for the first time under field conditions in the division's new defence zone, supplying units with food, ammunition and gasoline and at the same time preparing to carry out a difficult battle role.

Its organization is enormous. The unit is so large that if the whole formation moved together it would stretch for 32 miles.

From the busy headquarters, the unit operates throughout the divisional area. Two of the busiest officers are the senior supply officer, Maj. W. H. Montague of Hamilton, and the adjutant, Capt. H. E. Hacking of Victoria.

(Mrs. Hacking lives at 1474 Fort Street. At present she is visiting her sister in Nelson.)

The Petrol Company now is carrying and delivering thousands of gallons of gasoline a day to keep vehicles of the division going.

Newest R.C.A.S.C. unit is the troop-carrying company and one of the 2nd Division companies is commanded by Maj. P. H. Beare

CAR OWNERS SAVE 20% ON TIRE COSTS

Finest Tire in B. F. Goodrich History

Orders Swamp Local Dealers!
Duramin-Made Tire Combines
Super Safety—Wear—Savings

KITCHENER, Ont., July 30.—To motorists who have been worried about an increase in tire costs and replacing worn out tires to ensure safe driving, the bright spot in the news is the recent B. F. Goodrich announcement—20% cut in tire costs. The 1941 "Life-Saver" Silvertown, with two new developments—"Duramin" and "Safety-Weld"—gives you five miles where the original Silvertown gave you four. To Canada, geared to all out production of war materials, this new tire means a notable saving in vital rubber supply. To Canadian motorists this new tire means down-to-earth saving of 20%.

"Duramin" is a combination of chemicals proven to be the finest defence against rubber's great enemies—heat, sunlight and oxygen—keeps rubber young and alive—resistant to the grinding wear of the roughest roads. Not content with a 20% reduction in tire costs alone, B. F. Goodrich went even further... added one "super" on top of another... super mileage... super blow-out protection... super safety from skids. Result—this year's Life-Saver Silvertown is the toughest-wearing, safest-riding, smoothest-rolling tire in B. F. Goodrich history. It gives you more protection against blow-outs, more safety from skids, more riding comfort—without any premium in price.

"Safety-Weld" Makes Steel-Strong Tire Carcass!
Exclusive with B. F. Goodrich

B. F. Goodrich scientists have discovered the method of putting the famous "Golden-Ply" blow-out protection into every ply of the tire by the "Safety-Weld" process. This new process welds "Hi-Flex" cords with Duramin-toughened rubber—makes tires steel-strong, able to resist internal heat, withstand grinding, grueling wear of the roughest roads... guards against ply separation... the deadly menace of high-speed driving in summer heat. "Safety-Weld" makes this new "Life Saver" Silvertown tire the safest thing on wheels.

When Children Stammer What Can We Do?

By ART STOTT

"Stammering," says Miss Mollie Crickmay, London-trained authority on the correction of defective speech, "is entirely psychological."

"Usually it develops in childhood as the result of an illness, a shock of some kind, or a temporary maladjustment in the life of the child. The stammer—that is the hesitation in the speech—is merely a symptom of a deeper psychological cause."

Now working among Victoria school children with improper vocal expression, the English expert calls on parents to provide the only sound basis for a cure and reports, from short experience with the mothers and fathers of this city, that 100 per cent co-operation has been given to her.

"Drawing a child's attention to his speech by telling him to talk slowly, to stop and think before he talks, or to repeat what he says, only makes him more conscious of his deficiency and so increases his difficulties of speech," she says.

GETTING BEHIND

Her school of correction seeks to strike at the cause of the trouble, to relieve the psychological condition behind the vocal mismanipulation. And that course, she states, is particularly satisfactory among children who are just beginning to stammer.

"If we can come into contact with the children at that particular moment of their lives, we can very often prevent the stammer from developing into what is more or less a fixed nervous habit," she says. "It is not wise to treat the children themselves, as that draws too much attention to their speech and is liable to aggravate the stammer. We treat them indirectly through their parents. They can often do a great deal to relieve the stress which is the root of the trouble, and improve the general conditions of the child's environment."

"Once the stammer becomes a fully established nervous habit it is difficult to overcome it completely. The child develops a fear of speech which becomes a deeply-rooted complex. It is not until this complex is overcome that the stammerer can be said to be cured."

"There are no hard and fast rules of treatment. Each case has to be considered individually. But the general aim of the treatment is to do everything possible to build up the child's self-confidence and increase his poise."

'FEAR' OF SPEECH

Since Miss Crickmay believes that it is the fear of speech that must be overcome before a cure can be effected, she and those of her school are strict in their criticism of "quacks," who institute tricks to relieve stammerers. By tricks she means such devices as singing words and phrases or reciting them in a measured rhythm.

"This does not touch the root of the trouble. It is an unnatural way to speak and the strain of doing it simply increases the stammerer's nervous tension. The aim should be to reduce his tension to normal. Then he can speak without stammering."

While stammering is probably the most difficult problem with which Miss Crickmay has to deal, it is not the only one. In her field, too, lies correction of improper speech caused by cleft palates, lisping and faulty pronunciation of consonants.

INSPIRING CONFIDENCE

Treatment in the latter group is largely a mechanical matter, requiring its measure of patience and ability to inspire confidence.

"Before a child with a cleft palate can derive any benefit from treatment, an operation must be performed on the palate," she explains. "This is nearly always done in infancy. Sometimes the palate splits open again, and in those cases a plate has to be fixed to give a roof to the mouth. Once the operation is effected, or the plate fitted, treatment can begin. The child has to be taught to direct his breath through his mouth instead of his nose, as he has done formerly. This part of the training calls for infinite patience and perseverance. Once he has mastered that, he can be taught by demonstration where to put the tongue in relation to the roof of his mouth, the teeth and the lips for the construction of the correct sound. The child's speech will always have a nasal quality, but, with practice, he should be able to make all the consonant sounds correctly."

LISping CURE SIMPLE

In cases of lisping or faulty pronunciation of consonants by persons with ordinary organs of speech, correction is relatively simple. By means of speech training exercises they gain greater control of their organs of articulation—the lips, tongue and teeth—so that they are able to put these in the correct position to produce the consonant sounds. These sounds are then carefully practiced until they can be introduced into speech without effort.

There is more to this speech correction than the mere production of more harmonious sounds. It is a definite move to avoid nervousness of a severe nature and to relieve the self-consciousness of an improper speaker whose social attitude may be twisted through his embarrassed unwillingness to engage in conversation.

That its importance is recognized is illustrated by the number of clinics which flourished in Britain before the war and are still being operated in the United States.

In Victoria, parents and parent-teacher groups join educationists in showing their appreciation for the work being done in this little known field by Miss Crickmay.

LONG EXPERIENCE

Originally a student of speech training, she became interested in the problems confronting children suffering from defects in speech. Following study under Miss Elsie Fogarty, authority on the subject in the Central School of Speech and Drama, Royal Albert Hall, she took more advanced courses at St. Thomas' Hospital Speech Clinic and later went to the London County Council stammering centres.

For some time she conducted a clinic at Wimbledon and rounded out 10 years' experience in the field with service at an East End London clinic. Shortly before the war, she came to Canada on leave of absence. Hostilities broke out, children were evacuated from her centre and the clinic ceased to exist.

During recent weeks she has been engaged by the City School Board and has won the confidence of many parents for her treatment of their children.

Zoning By-law Given Reading

Saanich Council gave first reading last night to a zoning by-law amendment stipulating that new homes in the water area of the municipality must have at least 600 square feet of floor space, homes in the Quadra and Cook Street areas must have at least 1,000 square feet, and homes on Dean Heights, Cadboro Bay, Carey and Grange Roads at least 800 square feet.

Final reading will not be given for six weeks, so that National Housing Act applicants may have time to secure information. The council decided to protect volunteer firemen and waterworks men training in the municipality with a group insurance plan.

Saanich will pay $250 annually for the group insurance, covering up to 50 volunteers. A policy to be secured provides for payment of $1,000 in event of death, weekly payment of $25 in event of injury, and payment of medical and hospital costs.

Thirty-two applications for a position as office assistant were received. Six of the applicants were selected to appear before the council for interviews August 12.

The council authorized appointment of Fire Chief Joseph Law as a provincial fire prevention officer in order that he might control beach fires in the municipality.

The fire and water committee and municipal engineer were asked to inspect a 1,000-gallon tank which Councillor L. C. Hagan suggested might be bought for use in fire prevention in the outlying wards.

A petition was received from E. T. Hodgkinson and 50 others for a macadam sidewalk on Richmond Road from Lansdowne Road to the street car terminus at Mount Tolmie. The petition also asked that five street lights be installed. Councillors said the sidewalk could be laid only under a local improvement by-law. Councillor Watson, however, favored construction of the walk out of general revenue funds as suggested in the petition. It was pointed out the lights could be installed if the petitioners were willing to bear half the cost.

The council received a petition from the employees for a cost-of-living bonus and a letter from the yard superintendent on behalf of some employees asking for an increase in wages.

Not War Conscious

R. L. MAITLAND, B.C. Conservative leader, in New Westminster: "Regardless of the tremendous sacrifices of the British people, many Canadians are not yet war-conscious. Canadians will have to make great sacrifices if they are going to do their part in winning the war."

Liberals Choose Delta Candidate

CLOVERDALE (CP)—Arthur M. Laing of Vancouver has been chosen Liberal candidate for Delta riding in the forthcoming provincial elections. He was nominated at a Liberal convention here last night. The seat is now occupied by L. A. Shepherd, C.C.F., who will stand for re-election.

25 Years Ago

July 29, 1916

At Metropolitan Methodist Church the wedding took place between Florence Georgina, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Spencer, and Lieut. Arthur Graham Gray, C.E.F., of Toronto. Rev. Robert Hughes performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. C. E. Bland of Edmonton. A family wedding breakfast followed at the home of the bride's parents on Moss Street.

The Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Barnard gave a garden party at Government House for T.R.H. the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and H.R.H. Princess Patricia.

Capt. M. Bell-Irving of the flying corps has been awarded the Military Cross. When on a photographic reconnaissance he was severely wounded in the head. Half blinded by blood he steered for the nearest airdrome and collapsed after giving orders for safe delivery of his photographs. He was awarded the D.S.O. last January and was mentioned in dispatches in June.

$555 for Brandy

LONDON (CP)—A dozen bottles of 1815 brandy donated by King George VI brought $555 at a Red Cross sale today. The bottles were auctioned separately, one bringing £100 (about $440).

Clark Repudiated By Roosevelt

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT said he hoped none of United States' friends in Latin America would take seriously the statement of SENATOR WORTH CLARK, Democrat, Idaho, the good neighbor policy had been a failure and the United States should take over the Latin American nations and Canada.

In response to a press conference question Mr. Roosevelt said he had read Clark's words in the newspapers.

SUMNER WELLES, acting Secretary of State, dismissed as unbelievable Clark's suggestion.

Welles said he was confident Clark's views were not shared by any responsible person in the government.

Prisoner in Canada

GOTTFRIED LESKE, the German air force pilot who wrote "I Was a Nazi Flier," is a prisoner in Canada, Curt Reiss, who edited the diary of Leske's experiences, said in New York.

The diary was completed early this year in Germany and, after Leske was taken prisoner, the manuscript was smuggled out of Germany to New York.

"I Was a Nazi Flier," on recent best-seller lists in New York is regarded as strongly anti-Nazi in tone.

In London Duncan Sandys, financial secretary to the War Office, told the House of Commons he had no information about a book which George Strauss, Labor, said was being published in America under the title "I Was a Nazi Flier."

Mr. Sandys added he was inquiring about it through Canadian sources. The Labor member had declared it was written by a German prisoner sent to Canada and asked whether permission had been given for it to be published.

Rose Loses Out

ROSE DAVIES won't get that $300,000 bequeathed to her in the will of Edward B. McLean.

McLean, former Washington Post publisher, made Miss Davies, who he said "has given me her association and affection," a principal beneficiary of his will. Rose is the sister of Marion Davies, the former actress.

But all that Ned McLean wrote in his will, which was executed in 1932 shortly before he was adjudged mentally incompetent, is of no avail, the attorneys said, adding the will was "utterly ineffective for the simple reason that Mr. McLean had no property of any kind that he could leave to anyone by will."

"Mr. McLean's father left his son an income for his life only," the attorneys' statement added.

Germans Determined

MRS. GEORGE E. KIDD, wife of a United Press correspondent in Europe, and formerly Drucilla Albert of Seattle, on arrival in New York from Lisbon said: "Food is scarce in Berlin and housewives scour the markets to get enough to feed the families, but in spite of hardships the German people are determined to carry on the war."

She said bread and potatoes still were the mainstays of the German diet and the food situation was slightly more restricted after two years of war.

Mr. Kidd agreed with his wife about German morale. Said he: "The German people thus far have given no sign of collapse under their total war effort—to the contrary, they still appear determined."

Stimson Apologizes

United States Secretary of War, HENRY STIMSON, conceding that Senator Burton Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, did not intend to direct anti-war postcards specifically to soldiers, apologized publicly for his statement of last week that Wheeler's activities constituted "near treason."

At the same time Stimson said "not three but several hundreds of the circulars" reached the soldiers in camps and an inquiry had developed "evidence of organized attempts, by other persons, to arouse disloyalty on the part of the soldiers in the cantonments towards the training plans of their officers."

Mussolini Now 58

BENITO MUSSOLINI spent his 58th birthday yesterday traveling in northern Italy, but no public mention was made of the fact that Il Duce had passed another milestone.

Mussolini has been increasingly sensitive over his advancing age. Last year, when correspondents published reports the years were catching up with him and his health was failing, he staged a special press conference in the open air and demonstrated to newsmen his prowess as a horseman, to indicate he was retaining his youthful activity.

Released at Border

MRS. L. A. VAREKAMP, Seattle builder's wife, in British Columbia since July 20, is now free to go home after the United States Immigration and naturalization service waived visa and passport requirements. Mrs. Varekamp, a candidate for U.S. citizenship, was refused readmission when she and her husband visited B.C. that Sunday. She said she had not known about the requirements despite annual trips north for many years.

"I give it to you in the hope that it will be made part of a plane and a bomb so that when our boys go over to Berlin they will give Hitler a good permanent wave," said in a note accompanying the gift.

Eden Warns Japan To Reflect on Policy

LONDON (CP)—Foreign Secretary Eden today said only the future could tell if Japan will keep her promises to respect the sovereignty and integrity of French Indo-China, and sharply warned the Japanese "to reflect while there is still time whether their present policy is leading them."

In a statement to the House of Commons which traced the British effort to avert Japanese occupation of air and naval bases in southern Indo-China, bases which he termed a threat to Great Britain, Mr. Eden said it was a matter of regret to the British government that relations with Japan had become strained.

ACTS OF AGGRESSION

He said "Japan complains of encirclement, yet it is Japan herself who, by successive acts of aggression, has drawn closer and closer in self-defence the countries which lie in her path and whose territories and interests are ever more sharply threatened."

Then adding "I cannot believe that statesmanship in Japan is entirely dead or blind," he warned those "responsible for the destinies of the Japanese Empire" to take heed.

The minister made available an official statement which traced the British effort to avert the Japanese occupation of Indo-China.

He said ratification of the commercial treaty between Japan and Indo-China early in July was synchronized with the report that Japan contemplated acquisition of naval and air bases in south Indo-China and Thailand.

DENIALS GIVEN

The British ambassador at Tokyo received a categorical denial of this report July 5 from the vice-minister of foreign affairs. The report persisted, however, and there followed a concerted Japanese press campaign designed to show Indo-China was threatened by Great Britain.

On July 25 the new Japanese minister for foreign affairs informed the British ambassador at Tokyo of the agreement reached with the Vichy government "strictly for defence."

"Sir Robert Craigie (British ambassador) at once pointed out in reply that the action was in direct conflict with the categorical denial... Sir Robert referred to frequent warnings which he had given... that occupation of naval and air bases in Indo-China must necessarily constitute a potential threat against British territory," said Mr. Eden.

The Japanese government on July 26, continued the statement, issued an official statement protesting the friendly nature of their agreement with the Vichy government.

"The document also proclaims once more the intention of Japan to respect the territorial integrity and sovereignty of French Indo-China," Mr. Eden said.

"On this point let the future speak for itself."

MONTREAL (CP)—The Quebec government believes automobiles powered by gazogene, a product of charcoal, may become common in the province if gasoline is rationed. Hon. Oscar Drouin, Minister of Municipal Affairs, Trade and Industry, said. A number of provincial government trucks had already been equipped to use gazogene and had been giving satisfactory service.

Business in Shantung Halted

Japanese Patrol British, U.S. Companies

SHANGHAI (AP)—Reports from North China today indicated all British and United States companies in the Japanese-occupied area were prevented from doing business except in the Peiping and Tientsin foreign quarters.

(In Japan itself foreign business was virtually at a standstill as assets were frozen by the government.)

American and British properties in the whole of Shantung province were said to have been put under protective custody by the Japanese.

Among those reported affected were the Texas and Socony Oil Companies.

SENTRIES

At some places Japanese sentries were patrolling the properties, as other Chinese pickets employed by the Japanese mounted guard, it was said.

The Swatow branch of the British-owned Hongkong-Shanghai Bank, the largest in the Orient, was reported picketed by Japanese in semi-military uniforms.

All Chinese and Japanese throughout the occupied areas have been forbidden already to do business with nationals of the freezing powers except by official permission.

RUMORS DENIED

Japanese authorities had several explanations for the latest actions.

In closing the oil companies—and in seizing stocks in one place—officials said there were rumors the owners planned to dynamite the docks. Oil company officials denied the dynamite rumors as ridiculous.

Lest the Japanese should move to delay her indefinitely, the United States freighter Dona Nata left a cargo of bristles, feathers, embroidery and other Chinese products destined for the United States on docks and sailed almost empty from Shanghai for Manila.

Japs Damage U.S. Gunboat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The navy today announced the United States river gunboat Tutuila had been damaged by Japanese bombs in a Japanese air raid on Chungking, Chinese capital. No casualties were reported.

Several bombs were loosed by the raiders over the river, a navy spokesman said, and the stern superstructure of the small craft was damaged slightly.

MOTORBOAT WRECKED

A small outboard motorboat belonging to the Tutuila was shattered, it was announced, and some other equipment on the dock nearby was reported damaged.

(A dispatch from Chungking said the residence of the United States embassy also was damaged.)

The navy source stated his belief the damage to the ship was incidental to the general raid on the city, although the vessel was at anchor in the so-called safety area across the river.

The Tutuila narrowly escaped bombs which fell in the American safety zone in Chungking June 15, leading to a strong United States protest to Japan. At that time several bombs fell in the vicinity of the United States embassy at Chungking and near the Tutuila.

Japanese naval officials said the June bombing in the American zone was unintentional.

Reports to the naval operations bureau on the new incident did not state whether the gunboat, which accommodates a normal crew of 58 officers and men, returned fire on the Japanese aircraft.

The Tutuila is a sister vessel of the Panay, which on December 12, 1937, was sunk by Japanese action, with a loss of two lives, in the Yangtze River above Nanking. She is 159 feet long and displaces 370 tons.

U.S. Sea Patrol Aids Britain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Walter George, Democrat, Georgia, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today said the United States naval patrol of sea lanes to Iceland appeared to have been of such assistance that Great Britain was "slowly gaining the upper hand" in the Battle of the Atlantic.

Emphasizing that he based his observations only on official reports that had come to him, George told reporters there were indications that the United States defence patrol of the sea lanes had been of "great value" to the Royal Navy in efforts to move supplies to beleaguered Britain.

"It seems apparent," George said, "that the British are slowly gaining the upper hand in the Atlantic. There is a gradual, but nevertheless marked decline in the loss of shipping."

Turning to Russia, he said reports of terrific Nazi losses in manpower and mechanized equipment made it appear to experts with whom he had talked that the Germans would be occupied in Russia for at least the next six weeks, even if they brought up strong reinforcements and succeeded in breaking through the Soviet defence lines.

For that reason, he continued, it was reasonable to believe that there might not be any Nazi attempt to invade Britain this year.

Says Australia 'Playing at Ships'

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — R. J. Grimshaw, British shipbuilder and member of the Royal Corps of Naval Constructors, today said that Australia's shipbuilding program is "playing at ships."

Australia aimed to build 60 ships in five years. Canada's program scheduled the same number of ships to be built in one year.

Italian Battleship Undergoing Repairs

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP) — British naval officials said today they believed the crack 35,000-ton Italian battleship Vittorio Veneto, torpedoed March 28 in the Battle of Matapan, now was undergoing repairs at an Italian naval base.

Many officers thought the battleship had sunk after initial reconnaissance failed to disclose a trace of her after the March sea fight.

Now, however, they said they believed she succeeded in reaching port.

Jap Fish Boats Seized at Hawaii

WASHINGTON (AP) — The seizure of 19 Japanese fishing boats in Hawaiian waters this spring was disclosed today by the United States treasury department.

Although the vessels were seized by customs agents on charges of false registry, several authoritative officials here alleged the craft had been employed in espionage work.

Customs officers reported that, at the time of the seizures, no suspicious equipment was found aboard the vessels. Other informed sources, however, asserted that during the period the ships were under investigation, it was established they had carried expensive radio and photographic, together with navigational charts of a type unconnected with fishermen's work.

These sources further alleged that most of the ships involved had at least one member of the Japanese naval reserve in their crews.

The seizures took place between February 28 and March 3, and were apparently unrelated to any of the more recent developments in relations between the United States and Japan.

Six of the seized vessels already have been declared forfeited to the United States government. Seventy-one Japanese fishermen and three Honolulu fishing companies were indicted on the false registry charges.

Vague reports of Japanese naval officers posing as fishermen have been recurrent along the Pacific coast for many years, and it was learned the seizures this spring culminated several years of work by agents investigating such reports.

Must Stand Trial

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Twenty-one officers and men of the Italian motorship Leme must stand trial for sabotaging their ship, Federal Judge James A. Fee ruled yesterday.

In overruling a defence demurrer to the indictment, he said the law under which the indictment was drawn was passed in 1917 when conditions were similar to those of the present and its intent and application in the present case were apparent.

The Leme was taken over by the United States coastguard shortly after its machinery had been damaged as she lay in the harbor here.

Trial is expected to be held in October.

Adam Mackie Retires

VANCOUVER (CP) — Retirement of Adam Mackie as district supervisor of fisheries at Vancouver was announced here today. He is on a six months' retiring leave at the present time.

Mackie entered the fisheries service in 1914 as collector of fish revenue in District 2 when the service was under control of the fisheries branch of the former Department of Naval Service.

He was promoted to district inspector of fisheries for District No. 2, with headquarters at Prince Rupert, in 1922. This title later was changed to district supervisor of fisheries. In 1930 Mackie was transferred to the department's British Columbia headquarters, serving here for 11 years.

Motorboats Included In Gasoline Order

TORONTO (CP) — G. R. Cottrill, federal oil controller, said today that his recent order prohibiting sale of gasoline other than to the tank forming part of a "private passenger motor vehicle," includes motorboats.

Because it is impractical for farmers to take tractors to a station for a refill "they'll buy it in their drums as usual," he added.

Jap Seaman Sentenced

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — The Japanese quartermaster of the cargo ship Koi Maru was sentenced to 90 days today and subsequent deportation for conspiring to violate the Federal Export Act.

The prosecution charged that Nishida had collected eight pounds of mercury from Aberdeen, Wash., drugstores and had it aboard ship ready to take back to Japan when customs officers seized it and him.

New York List

NEW YORK (AP) — Selling was the dominant force in leading financial markets Wednesday and chief coloring came from a near-collapse in cotton futures. Prices for the staple plunged down about $5 a bale from early levels after publication of President Roosevelt's message to Congress requesting broad authority to establish price ceilings to head off inflation.

Other speculative staples weakened with cotton, but stocks, lower in the early proceedings, inclined toward an irregular recovery after the President's recommendations were disclosed. Steels came back after a fairly sharp dip. Rubbers showed independent firmness and rails were in forward momentum at the close. Transfers amounted to about 650,000 shares.

Wheeling Steel rose about two points on its report showing a profit of $3.96 a share for the second quarter against $2.64 in the preceding period. Southern Railway set a new top for the year, as did Goodyear and Goodrich.

Down most of the day were Bethlehem Steel, Crucible, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Sears, Roebuck, United Aircraft, Kennecott, and Allied Chemical.

Canadian stocks were unchanged to fractions lower. Dome lost 1/4 and Distillers Seagram 1/4. Walkers gained 1/4. In the bond market Canada 4s lost 1/4.

Hopes Britain Wins

WILLIAM HALE (BIG BILL) THOMPSON, former Chicago mayor who once threatened to punch King George V of England "in the snout" if the monarch ever went to Chicago, said in Chicago he hoped Great Britain would emerge victorious against Germany.

People of Oregon Positive In Support of British Cause

Governor Charles A. Sprague of Oregon has written from the executive mansion at Salem the following letter to Prof. Raymond Smith Baker, who has just returned to Victoria from a four-year speaking tour of the United States and Canada:

"My Dear Dr. Baker:—I think I am safe in saying that the vast majority of the people of Oregon are very positive in their sympathy with the cause of Great Britain and very hostile in their attitude toward Hitler.

"There is a variation in the sentiment respecting the degree of our participation in this war, but I think the people are ready to follow the lead of the President. If conveying should be ordered, I think there would be general acceptance of his judgment in the matter. That was true respecting the other decisions which the President has made, particularly the exchange of destroyers and the occupation of Iceland. I think it is true that in a popular poll the expression would be one of opposition to getting into the war actively, but probably that would have been the result of a poll if taken in Canada just before Canada declared war. It is a reflection of popular dread of war rather than of a clear appraisal of the international situation.

"In many ways I think we are making our most effective contribution the way we are going at it now, namely: supplying industrial equipment and building up our own military establishment. To engage actively in war now might dissipate our energy somewhat and prevent our giving to Great Britain the assistance it vitally needs.

"It is my personal view that there will be no peace in the world until Hitlerism is crushed. I am ready to move as quickly and as fast and as far as the situation seems to warrant to enable us to sustain Great Britain's defence effort and contribute most effectively to the early defeat of Germany and the restraint of Japan. I do not feel that I am in possession of enough vital information to determine the timing or the degree of our participation.

"You are at liberty to use this letter as you see fit.

"Cordially yours,
"CHARLES A. SPRAGUE,
"Governor."

Tragic Ending to Vacation Trip

A Winnipeg family's vacation trip to British Columbia ended tragically near Golden on the Columbia River last Monday.

The story, as radioed to Provincial Police headquarters here yesterday, is:

Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts and two daughters were on a motor trip of the province and were driving along the highway about 55 miles north of Golden.

Mr. Roberts, driving the car, struck a difficult place in the highway and lost control. The car plunged down a 30-foot embankment into the Columbia River.

The father and one daughter, Irene, 17 years, escaped from the car on its descent, but Mrs. Mary Louise Roberts, the wife, and Mrs. Maude M. Thornton, a married daughter, were trapped in the machine and were drowned.

The bodies of the drowned were recovered by road gangs near the scene who chopped a hole through the top of the car.

An inquest was ordered into the deaths of the mother and daughter.

Pioneer Resident Died Last Night

Victoria lost another pioneer resident in the death last night of Mrs. W. E. George at her home, 1271 McKenzie Street, in her 91st year. She was born in Alaska and had been a resident of this city since 1876.

Mrs. George was the youngest daughter of Rev. Keshiveroff of the Russian Catholic Church, and after her marriage to Capt. William E. George in Kodiak, Alaska, she lived for a time in San Francisco. She came to Victoria 65 years ago, and here her six sons and two daughters were born. She was a member of the former St. James Anglican Church, under the incumbency of the late Archdeacon Sweet.

A woman of cultured tastes, Mrs. George took a keen interest in the musical life of the city and was an enthusiastic gardener. Through her knowledge of the Russian language she often acted as interpreter for immigration authorities.

She is survived by her son, Andrew George, Victoria; her daughter, Mrs. George Langley, Vancouver, and her daughter, Miss Marie George, with whom she made her home; one great-grandson, Gordon Langley, Victoria, and one granddaughter, Mrs. Haag, Seattle. Two of her sons, Ernest and Ivan, served overseas in the Great War. Her brother, Rev. Keshiveroff, died in Juneau a year ago.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlor. Interment at Royal Oak.

Seek Precious Metal

EDMONTON (CP)—Herbert Barry and Alex Pope, prospectors from New Liskeard, Ont., said in an interview here they are bound for the Arctic Circle in search of a precious metal regarded as valuable for naval construction.

They said it was believed the only deposit in the world was in the Richardson Mountain Range west of Akavik, 1,925 air miles north of Edmonton. They added they could not divulge the name of the metal "because others would be after it" and said the Dominion Department of Mines had received reports regarding the metal.

Independent to Run In Rossland-Trail

ROSSLAND, B.C. (CP)—A. F. (Pete) Vetere, has announced he will run as an Independent Labor candidate in Rossland-Trail riding in the forthcoming provincial election.

"The Rossland-Trail district has the world's largest nonferrous metallurgical plant and employs thousands of men," he said, "and I feel Labor should represent this district in the Legislature."

Officials Insist Less Pork be Served

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians are not yet conscious that the appeal to cut their "pork" consumption by 50 per cent in order that Britain's needs may be filled means something more than eating less bacon at breakfast time. A Department of Agriculture official said: "Pork means ham, fresh pork—roasts, chops and ribs—as well as bacon, and this is a place where each individual Canadian can help by resolving personally to eat less of it. It is not so much a question of buying less but actually refusing to eat more than 50 per cent of the usual amount."

The department received many letters and telephone calls saying there was as much pork as ever to be bought and it still holds a prominent position on restaurant menus.

More than 18,000 restaurants, lunch counters and hotels—"every one in Canada"—have been circularized and letters are coming in from restaurant proprietors signifying their willingness to co-operate.

Jailed, Fined $200 For Not Reporting

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Nicholson Plainin, 23, Blaine Lake Doukhobor, brought back from Penticton, B.C., pleaded guilty and was sentenced in police court here by Magistrate S. J. A. Branion to four months' imprisonment with hard labor and a fine of $200 on a charge of failing to report for work in lieu of military service.

Earlier this month Magistrate Branion sentenced 54 Doukhobors who failed to report for work in national parks in Saskatchewan.

The prime mover of this expedition is addressed as Gog, Prince of Rosh, Meshech and Tubal (R.V.). Forthcoming events will show whether Hitler, who has already possessed himself of the ancient crown and sceptre of the Holy Roman Empire, will assume royal status over Prussia, formerly known as Borussia, and a subjugated Russia, or whether a triumphant Russian leader is indicated.

Need for Specially-trained Race Now Clear, Say British-Israelites

By G. E. ALTREE COLEY

Many people today are interested to know what is the British Israel view of the present world crisis. While no responsible exponent of British Israel undertakes to adopt the role of astrologer or teacup reader by professing to read the future, it is certain that present developments are proceeding on the lines foreseen for many years by leaders of this movement.

It has long been seen that the present world conflict which began in 1914 will end by a sudden and decisive catastrophe in Palestine, by which the armies fighting against God and humanity will be destroyed. Therefore it is no surprise that the sphere of action should be shifted from western Europe to the Middle East.

EXPECTED

This is exactly as expected. Moreover, it is notable that even in that sphere the course of aggression has lately shifted from the Balkans to Russia. That is to say, instead of pursuing an advance on Palestine through the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean, as seemed the plan up to the capture of Crete, a sudden and extraordinary thrust has been made against the only power that seemed able to withstand attack. Yet this is in accordance with Bible prophecy, which foretells in Ezekiel 38 and 39 that an immense invasion will pour down upon Palestine from Russia, indicated by the names Rosh (R.V.) and Meshech and Tubal, these latter being interpreted as Moscow and Tobolsk.

This invasion makes use of cavalry (ch. 38:15) and it is significant that cavalry is being used in the Soviet armies. Airplanes and parachutes are also pictured—"Thou shalt ascend, thou shalt come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land." In view of the rugged intervening country the use of these two means of transport will be necessary, while they indicate the speed which has become the feature of this war.

The prime mover of this expedition is addressed as Gog, Prince of Rosh, Meshech and Tubal (R.V.). Forthcoming events will show whether Hitler, who has already possessed himself of the ancient crown and sceptre of the Holy Roman Empire, will assume royal status over Prussia, formerly known as Borussia, and a subjugated Russia, or whether a triumphant Russian leader is indicated.

But what of ourselves, the British Commonwealth and the United States, it is asked. Vastly more light is available here, but prophecies regarding the great race which girdles the globe can only be found under the heading of Israel—simply because this race is Israel. No fact is better attested either in scripture or history. Scripture starting at Gen. 12 draws a full-length portrait of Israel in the latter days, and our race is indicated in every stroke. The New Testament declares the great covenant promises underlying the picture could not have gone into effect prior to the first advent of our Lord (Gal. 3:19, also Rom. 15:8).

RACE IS ISRAEL

Likewise references to enemies would be meaningless in the millennial peace after the second advent. Therefore, the promises are for this age, and the race which still holds the gate of its enemies by its control of the sea—notwithstanding its previous follies in disarmament—which is a company of nations and a great people, which controls the wealth of the earth, yet nevertheless has used its enormous power mercifully and has been a blessing to other nations, is the house of Israel. This is as certain as identification marks can make it, for no other race is characterized by these and many more marks predicted in the Bible.

SPECIAL RACE

The reason and need for a specially trained race stand crystal clear. One of the developments of this crisis is the acknowledged need for a New Order. It must be planet-wide.

It must be based upon a new conception of property and embody absolute social justice. It must be put into practice under a leadership both sympathetic and incorruptible. The Bible declares God began the preparation for all this 4,000 years ago. The laws which will operate a perfect world state are already written, the race which will put them in practice has already been trained. It is no untrained race, but also no jack-booted "Herrenvolk" that is to administer the happy new order.

But now we find ourselves in the most desperate crisis of all history. What is the British Israel message in view of it? Simply this, since the Lord God has fashioned and brought our race to this point, it is our duty to turn with all our heart and enter into covenant with Him. That covenant is already made; it has been sealed by nothing less than the most precious blood of our Redeemer. It is for us at long last, as a people to enter into this relationship with God. This will at once loosen our clutch on the lower things that are destroying us. For it is self-evident that no new order is possible unless we first get rid of our selfish greed, our competitive strifes. The vision will be cleansed to see and love the new way of life.

On that day our enemies will be defeated, for we shall have enlisted the full force of the Almighty on our behalf. Not Stalin nor any other.

We can do it this year. A prophecy of Hosea may well speak of this very year. "After two days will He revive us; in the third day He will raise us up, and we shall live in His sight" (Hos. 6:2). In prophecy a day often symbolises a year. We shall have been at war two years on September 3. Then we enter the third year, or the third day. Will it bring national resurrection? The dawn of peace and joy for which the world has wept and waited so long? It can come, it will come, if we will only obey the words which precede: "Come, and let us return unto the Lord."
